Power Consolidation Proposal Advances

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Thursday gave strong 31-8 first round floor approval to legislation which would consolidate wholesale public power operations under a single grid system.

Approval came after nearly nine hours of debate and immediately followed 11-33 defeat of a kill motion offered by Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte.

The bill, LB764, sponsored by Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, would consolidate wholesale activities of Consumers Public Power District, Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District

OPPPD Unchanged

Omaha Public Power District would continue to serve as wholesaler in its integrated service area.

Operations of Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District would also be unaffected by the bill.

The new grid — governed first by an 11-member appointed board of directors, then later by a nine-member elected board—would be established on July 1, 1966.

'73 Target

Target date for withdrawal from retail electric service now offered by any of the three member districts was set at Jan. 1, 1973, subject to conditions. Municipalities are specifically allowed the option of being served at retail by the grid if they so desire.

Sen. Pat Moulton of Omaha, former general manager of OPPD, hailed the measure as perhaps the most important power legislation since the public power enabling act of 1933.

Sen. Stanley Matzke of Milford, formerly associated with the Central Nebraska district, said the measure offers "a solution to the power problems of the last 25 years."

'Huge Octopus'

Craft contended that LB764 would create "a huge octopus that is really going to run the state."

The new grid would be controlled by CPPD, he argued, and "in the future, you're going to vote the way Consumers is going to want you to vote if this bill passes—and don't you forget it."

Craft said that if the power situation "continues to degenerate," he will propose a bill at the next session "to sell public power districts and return to private power."

Consider Shift

Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha said he too would like to consider the possibility of bringing back private power to replace this "semi-socialistic system."

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington and Craft both said the bill would damage irrigation interests in the Platte Valley.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said that public power should be operated for the benefit of all Nebraskans, "and to have a statewide view, you need a statewide board."

Major Wholesaler

Loup and Platte together form the Nebraska Public Power System, major electric wholesaler in the eastern two-thirds of Nebraska outside the OPPD service area. Loup's board is elected from one county; Platte's directors are elected in five counties.

Under LB764, Craft argued, grid customers are allowed "unlimited" wheeling provisions which will stunt the grid's growth and impair its ability to borrow money. The bill will lead to "prolonged litigation," he predicted.

Moulton said the consolidation presents "a definite possibility of lower electric rates."

A return to private power would increase rates by as much as $30 million, Matzke said, in exchange for $10 million in tax revenue.

Backed By Rurals

The bill has been supported by Consumers and most rural districts, and opposed by Loup and Platte. Municipalities are divided on the issue.

State Tax Measure 'Still Has Problems'

Gov. Frank Morrison said Thursday that an attorney general's opinion indicates "there are still some mechanical problem" involved in the state income tax proposal.

However, the governor said, he does not yet know whether they are of sufficient magnitude to warrant a gubernatorial veto of LB797 or whether they could be overcome with amendments to LB562.

LB797 is the state income tax bill sponsored by Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln. LB562 is a companion measure which would remove the state from the property tax field.

Morrison said the mechanical problems are contaied in "the period of transition" from a property tax to an income tax.

Transferred

Additional problems may exist in removing the state from taxation of intangible property, the governor indicated. LB562 now provides that the state's one-sixth share of intangible revenue would be transferred to counties

Morrison said he would need "more time for analysis" before determining whether existing problems can be resolved with amendments to LB562.

LB797 is scheduled for final reading next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Bauer said a similar attorney general's opinion delivered to him makes it apparent that no amendments will be needed to LB797, but some work will have to be done in amending LB562.

The Justice Department informed Bauer that the state property tax could be levied until the operative date of the proposed income tax, and state property taxes could be collected after that date.

The income tax is slated to take effect on Jan. 1, 1967.

The Duis Amendment to the state constitution provides that the state must repeal the general state property tax if it should enter the sales or income tax field.

The department reply to Bauer's question, written by Assistant Atty. Gen. Homer Hamilton and approved by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer, stated that the State Board of Equalization would levy a property tax to "provide funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1966, and ending June 30, 1967, and would provide additional funds for the transition period, since some of the taxes levied in 1966 would not even be due until September, 1967."

"The fact that the state would be collecting property taxes after the income tax becomes operative is of no consequence, inasmuch as the levy of such taxes would have been made at a time when the state board could legally do so.

"The actual collection of these taxes is only an administerial act on the part of the taxing officials."

Sen. Bauer said the opinion "should alleviate the fear expressed by some that the Duis Amendment would require that the property tax be repealed as soon as the income tax got on the books, thus leaving a gap of about two years when no taxes would be levied."

The Justice Department opinion said:

"On Sept. 1, 1966, the state board would be required to determine the income tax rate for the calendar year 1967, with withholding taxes on salaries commencing Jan. 1, 1967.

"This would provide additional funds not provided for by a property tax after July 1, 1967. Whether there would be a period of a few months when the state might not be receiving sufficient funds to meet commitments cannot be determined and is not a legal problem.

Several Factors

"The determination of this problem depends on several factors. We consider these to be: amount of 1966-67 appropriations (July 1, 1966 to June 30, 1967), amount of withholding taxes collected in 1967, amount of surplus, if any, credited to the various state spending agencies as of June 30, 1967, amount of property taxes collected after July 1, 1967, and the amount of delinquent taxes collected during the transition period."

The attorney-general's opinion to Morrison stated:

"We have previously indicated herein that the problems, if any, which might exist during the so-called transition period would not be legal in nature, but would involve only the question of sufficient revenue to meet existing commitments.

"We therefore conclude that LB562 is not directly connected with the transition period, except that it would prohibit the state from levying any general property taxes after Jan. 1, 1967."

TRAILER PARK . . . in Littleton, south of Denver, wrecked by flood.

FLOOD DISASTER ONE OF DENVER'S WORST

Denver (AP) — Residents of Denver along the South Platte River, using dynamite in some cases, dug Thursday into mud and debris left by mountain-born floods.

Many were homeless, most of them low-income families living in the river bottoms.

Three persons perished in the raging waters hurtling out of the Rocky Mountains Wednesday and weary searchers said it seemed a miracle more weren't killed. A fourth person died in the crash of a single-engine plane in a storm east of Denver.

Appalling Hammering

This metropolitan area of more than a million residents took an appalling hammering along the river from one of the worst disasters in city history. However, earlier floods have taken more lives.

Mrs. Susan Phipps, at 16 the mother of an 11-month-old son, said, "I heard the water was getting high and I left." Her home is close to the river. She was among those given shelter in a high school.

Dozens of families at La Junta in southeastern Colorado, were driven from their homes Thursday by high water in the Arkansas River.

The engine and two loaded cars of a coal train fell from the flood-weakened roadbed into the Purgatoire River in southern Colorado Wednesday night, but railroad officials said the crewmen got out safely.

Tens Of Millions

Damage in the Denver area will run into the tens of millions of dollars. Fifteen bridges in or near the city were destroyed or damaged at a cost estimated at $2.6 million.

Most of those forced to leave their homes Wednesday night occupy modest frame or brick dwellings — and in some cases tar-paper shacks—close to the usually tranquil South Platte.

For most citizens the flood meant merely the inconvenience of loss of electricity through power failures or special alertness in driving because scores of signal lights were out of operation Thursday morning.

Returnee, Reporter

The two victims of the flood were a 69-year-old man, drowned when he returned to the water-filled dwelling he had left earlier, and a 22-year-old Pueblo newspaperman, J. E. Osnwitz. He died when his sports car dived into swollen Plum Creek near Larkspur, 42 miles south of Denver.

Officials said a truck driver also may have perished in the stream. The body of his truck was found Thursday, but the cab had vanished.

An estimated 500 automobiles were trapped on Interstate 25 between Castle Rock and Larkspur. Three Army helicopters kept busy ferrying some of the motorists to Colorado Springs or Denver.

Railroad Tangle

Waters of the river spread through the Denver rail yards and threw operations into a tangle. The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad line south of Denver was closed by washouts. The Santa Fe's main line was reported blocked by floods at Holly, near the Kansas border.

The floods hitting Denver sprang from cloudbursts resulting from a huge mass of summer moisture jammed against the front range of the Rockies, a Weather Bureau official said.

Cherry Creek Dam, southeast of Denver, undoubtedly saved the city from an even worse pounding as it absorbed torrents launched by heavy rains in that area.

Ogallala Residents Keep Eye On River

Ogallala (AP)—Residents of Ogallala, which lies less than a half mile north of the South Platte River, kept a wary eye on the stream Thursday after massive flooding gorged the Platte in the Denver area, 220 miles away.

Some merchants started to fill sandbags, but Keith County Civil Defense Director John Hildebrand, said there would be plenty of warning in the event it appears a flood crest is headed for Ogallala. He pointed out there are three separate crests on the Platte and they are spaced in such away that each is likely to pass by before the next one arrives. There is also prospect that the crests will flatten out considerably over the flat South Platte Valley as they move eastward. The South Platte was running bankful at Ogallala Thursday.

Flood water coming from heavy rains south of Sidney earlier in the week were at Sterling Thursday noon and it was estimated that they would crest in the Ogallala area about Friday night. Another crest was in the Fort Morgan area and the third was still in Denver. The waters are moving at the rate of about 1½ miles per hour, according to Paul Hahn, Paxton, a Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District spokesman.

Even if flood waters do spread out over the low lands around Ogallala there is a railroad grade between the town and the river, which would hold some of the potential overflow to the low-lying areas.

AEC Willing To Name University Depository Library Of A-Material

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) is willing to designate the University of Nebraska as an AEC depository library, according to a letter sent to Chancellor Clifford Hardin by Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis.

Chairman Glenn Seaborg, in designating the University, referred to its "growing nuclear education and research programs."

Director of libraries at the University, Frank A. Lundy, said that the library corresponded with the commission about becoming a depository in 1963.

The library would consist of about 15,000 initial printed reports and 60,000 micro-cards. A micro card is 3 by 5 inches and generally contains 10-20 large pages of printed materials, photographically reduced, Lundy said.

A letter from the AEC at that time stated that the University would be expected to provide "adequate housing for the collection and staff to file the original shipment and keep the filing of supplemental shipments up to date."

Lundy said that housing the initial library would require space normally used to hold 3,600 ordinary books, and a 60-drawer file card cabinet for micro-cards. The space required would increase at approximately ten percent yearly.

Lundy said that the AEC requires that the library be made available to faculty, students and the public, loaned locally or through inter-library loan facilities. It would be the library's responsibility to provide staff assistance in the use of the library materials.

"These reports," commented Lundy, "are a valuable resource in research on all kinds of applications of atomic energy. If the present and prospective interest in this field of research justifies our housing all this material and staffing it we will of course be glad to do so."

Great Deal of Use

Lundy pointed out that it will take a great deal of use to justify the expense in housing and staffing. Use would have to be determined after considerable study.

"All materials of the AEC are actually available to us in some form at the present time," Lundy said. "We can order them as the need arises, so we are not entirely without it whatever we do."

The decision to accept or reject the offer of the AEC will have to be made by the University administration.

Vice Chancellor Adam C. Breckenridge said that "if it is to come about, it will be a fine addition to the University; to its facilities for research and teaching."

Saturation Not 100% Successful

. . . IN JETS' FIRST COMBAT USE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Eight-engine B52 heavy bombers from the U.S. Strategic air command went into action over South Viet Nam for the first time Friday. The massive planes bombed a jungle hideout where the Viet Cong was reported massing for a sneak attack.

The strike was the big jets' first in any combat.

Twenty-seven of the B52s, dispatched from Guam, rained high explosives on the "D" Zone jungle 25 miles north of Saigon

Two Collide In Air

Two of the 30-plane fleet collided en route. One went down in the South China Sea 200 miles northwest of the Philippines, and the second was presumed lost. A U.S. Air Force spokesman in the Philippines said one man had been picked up and others sighted on liferafts. Normally 12 men would have been aboard the two planes.

Another of the bombers had a malfunction which kept it from dropping its bombs. One bomber was diverted to Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

Several sticks of bombs struck near the edge of jungle patches near cultivated rice fields and clusters of houses. Newsmen who flew over the area said there seemed little doubt there were casualties and that many must have been civilians.

After the heavy bombers swept over the area, a squadron of B57 twin-jet fighter-bombers made runs over the target, pouring explosives and fire bombs, rockets and cannon shells into the dense foliage and along streams and clearings.

Part Of Target Missed

AP correspondent John Wheeler reported that sources at Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles north of Saigon, said the B52s had missed part of the designated target area.

Wheeler said three units of Vietnamese troops were sent into the area after the raid to check damage. The Viet Cong quickly engaged one in a heavy firefight.

Helicopter fire helped drive off the guerrillas attacking the reconnaissance unit, and the 180 ground troops were pulled out of the area shortly after noon

Area Not Saturated

Informants said some of the craters left by the B52s' bombs were 250 yards apart and that the area was not saturated.

A spokesman here said the B52s, which bomb from a relatively high altitude and do not dive on their targets, were used because of their greater effectiveness rather than for lack of other planes.

High altitude bombers had not been used in the Vietnamese war before because U.S. Air Force planners felt in general that accidental civilian casualties are too high in pattern bombing

Saturation Is Object

Raids over both North Viet Nam and Viet Cong concentrations in the south have been made exclusively by low-altitude dive bombers that can pinpoint their targets with much accuracy. The objective Friday, however, was area saturation rather than pinpoint accuracy.

Wilson To Head Up 5-Man Peace Tour

. . . TO SEEK VIET PEACE; LBJ 'DELIGHTED'

London (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson will lead a five-nation group of British Commonwealth statesmen on a world-wide mission to try to bring peace to Viet Nam. President Johnson said he is "delighted" and "they'll have our full cooperation."

A 21-nation Commonwealth summit conference Friday night named a multi-racial team made up of leaders from Ghana, Nigeria, Ceylon and Trinidad-Tobago to go with Wilson on the quest.

Washington's welcome was assured, but there were fears the Communists would put out no welcome mats.

Government spokesmen and morning newspapers theorized, nevertheless, it would be difficult for Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and North Vietnamese Red chief Ho Chi-Minh to snub the Wilson group including President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa of Nigeria, Dr. Eric Williams of Trinidad-Tobago and Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake of Ceylon.

Midnight Session

The move was highly popular here and hailed at a midnight session of the House of Commons by both Conservative former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and left-wing critics of Wilson's support for American policy in Viet Nam.

Wilson told the House he hoped the mission would be received in Hanoi, Saigon, Moscow, Peking and Washington.

He appealed for both sides in the war to show restraint until this mission gets to work, and hinted he would welcome a break in American bombing of the north.

Of the bombing itself he said "I do not want to say anything tonight but I hope some restraint will be shown in the matter of hostilities on both sides to allow the mission to do its job with the maximum result.

"I hope we shall be able to leave as early in July as possible. I hope between now and then nothing will be done which will worsen the prospects of our very difficult work."

May Be Rebuffed

Wilson declared, "It may be that we shall be rebuffed, that one country or another will refuse to see us. It may be that countries which receive us will be so negative that we shall not be able to secure conditions of a peace conference leading to peace.

"I hope this will not be true but even if it is I believe it will be better to have tried and failed."

Nkrumah, Balewa, and Williams agreed to serve with Wilson on the mission. Ceylon Sen. A. F. Wiejemanne, Ceylon's minister of justice who is representing his prime minister, Dudley Senanayake, at the conference, undertook immediately to check whether his chief also will agree to serve.

Hard To Refuse

Wilson's reasoning, apparently accepted by his colleagues, was that both North Viet Nam and Red China will find it difficult to refuse to receive a mission representing the 21-nation Commonwealth.

Fifteen members of Britain's global partnership are Asian and African nations.

Of these at least 12 will be taking part in the summit meeting of African and Asian countries in Algiers opening June 29. Presumably the peace mission will be over by then.

It was recognized by the Commonwealth leaders that there still remains a big gap between merely talking to the Hanoi and Peking governments and actually getting them to a peace conference.

The Justice Department informed Bauer that the state property tax could be levied until the operative date of the proposed income tax, and state property taxes could be collected after that date.

The income tax is slated to take effect on Jan. 1, 1967.

The Duis Amendment to the state constitution provides that the state must repeal the general state property tax if it should enter the sales or income tax field.

Flood water coming from heavy rains south of Sidney earlier in the week were at Sterling Thursday noon and it was estimated that they would crest in the Ogallala area about Friday night. Another crest was in the Fort Morgan area and the third was still in Denver. The waters are moving at the rate of about 1½ miles per hour, according to Paul Hahn, Paxton, a Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District spokesman.

Even if flood waters do spread out over the low lands around Ogallala there is a railroad grade between the town and the river, which would hold some of the potential overflow to the low-lying areas.

AEC Willing To Name University Depository Library Of A-Material

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) is willing to designate the University of Nebraska as an AEC depository library, according to a letter sent to Chancellor Clifford Hardin by Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis.

Chairman Glenn Seaborg, in designating the University, referred to its "growing nuclear education and research programs."

Director of libraries at the University, Frank A. Lundy, said that the library corresponded with the commission about becoming a depository in 1963.

The library would consist of about 15,000 initial printed reports and 60,000 micro-cards. A micro card is 3 by 5 inches and generally contains 10-20 large pages of printed materials, photographically reduced, Lundy said.

A letter from the AEC at that time stated that the University would be expected to provide "adequate housing for the collection and staff to file the original shipment and keep the filing of supplemental shipments up to date."

Lundy said that housing the initial library would require space normally used to hold 3,600 ordinary books, and a 60-drawer file card cabinet for micro-cards. The space required would increase at approximately ten percent yearly.

Lundy said that the AEC requires that the library be made available to faculty, students and the public, loaned locally or through inter-library loan facilities. It would be the library's responsibility to provide staff assistance in the use of the library materials.

"These reports," commented Lundy, "are a valuable resource in research on all kinds of applications of atomic energy. If the present and prospective interest in this field of research justifies our housing all this material and staffing it we will of course be glad to do so."

Great Deal of Use

Lundy pointed out that it will take a great deal of use to justify the expense in housing and staffing. Use would have to be determined after considerable study.

"All materials of the AEC are actually available to us in some form at the present time," Lundy said. "We can order them as the need arises, so we are not entirely without it whatever we do."

The decision to accept or reject the offer of the AEC will have to be made by the University administration.

Vice Chancellor Adam C. Breckenridge said that "if it is to come about, it will be a fine addition to the University; to its facilities for research and teaching."

Saturation Not 100% Successful

... IN JETS' FIRST COMBAT USE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Eight-engine B52 heavy bombers from the U.S. Strategic air command went into action over South Viet Nam for the first time Friday. The massive planes bombed a jungle hideout where the Viet Cong was reported massing for a sneak attack.

The strike was the big jets' first in any combat.

Two Collide In Air

Two of the 30-plane fleet collided en route. One went down in the South China Sea 200 miles northwest of the Philippines, and the second was presumed lost. A U.S. Air Force spokesman in the Philippines said one man had been picked up and others sighted on liferafts. Normally 12 men would have been aboard the two planes.

Another of the bombers had a malfunction which kept it from dropping its bombs. One bomber was diverted to Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

Several sticks of bombs struck near the edge of jungle patches near cultivated rice fields and clusters of houses. Newsmen who flew over the area said there seemed little doubt there were casualties and that many must have been civilians.

After the heavy bombers swept over the area, a squadron of B57 twin-jet fighter-bombers made runs over the target, pouring explosives and fire bombs, rockets and cannon shells into the dense foliage and along streams and clearings.

Part Of Target Missed

AP correspondent John Wheeler reported that sources at Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles north of Saigon, said the B52s had missed part of the designated target area.

Wheeler said three units of Vietnamese troops were sent into the area after the raid to check damage. The Viet Cong quickly engaged one in a heavy firefight.

Helicopter fire helped drive off the guerrillas attacking the reconnaissance unit, and the 180 ground troops were pulled out of the area shortly after noon.

Area Not Saturated

Informants said some of the craters left by the B52s' bombs were 250 yards apart and that the area was not saturated.

A spokesman here said the B52s, which bomb from a relatively high altitude and do not dive on their targets, were used because of their greater effectiveness rather than for lack of other planes.

High altitude bombers had not been used in the Vietnamese war before because U.S. Air Force planners felt in general that accidental civilian casualties are too high in pattern bombing.

Saturation Is Object

Raids over both North Viet Nam and Viet Cong concentrations in the south have been made exclusively by low-altitude dive bombers that can pinpoint their targets with much accuracy. The objective Friday, however, was area saturation rather than pinpoint accuracy.

Wilson To Head Up 5-Man Peace Tour

. . . TO SEEK VIET PEACE; LBJ 'DELIGHTED'

London (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson will lead a five-nation group of British Commonwealth statesmen on a world-wide mission to try to bring peace to Viet Nam. President Johnson said he is "delighted" and "they'll have our full cooperation."

A 21-nation Commonwealth summit conference Friday night named a multi-racial team made up of leaders from Ghana, Nigeria, Ceylon and Trinidad-Tobago to go with Wilson on the quest.

Washington's welcome was assured, but there were fears the Communists would put out no welcome mats.

Government spokesmen and morning newspapers theorized, nevertheless, it would be difficult for Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and North Vietnamese Red chief Ho Chi-Minh to snub the Wilson group including President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa of Nigeria, Dr. Eric Williams of Trinidad-Tobago and Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake of Ceylon.

Midnight Session

The move was highly popular here and hailed at a midnight session of the House of Commons by both Conservative former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and left-wing critics of Wilson's support for American policy in Viet Nam.

Wilson told the House he hoped the mission would be received in Hanoi, Saigon, Moscow, Peking and Washington.

He appealed for both sides in the war to show restraint until this mission gets to work, and hinted he would welcome a break in American bombing of the north.

Of the bombing itself he said "I do not want to say anything tonight but I hope some restraint will be shown in the matter of hostilities on both sides to allow the mission to do its job with the maximum result.

"I hope we shall be able to leave as early in July as possible. I hope between now and then nothing will be done which will worsen the prospects of our very difficult work."

May Be Rebuffed

Wilson declared, "It may be that we shall be rebuffed, that one country or another will refuse to see us. It may be that countries which receive us will be so negative that we shall not be able to secure conditions of a peace conference leading to peace.

"I hope this will not be true but even if it is I believe it will be better to have tried and failed."

Nkrumah, Balewa, and Williams agreed to serve with Wilson on the mission. Ceylon Sen. A. F. Wiejemanne, Ceylon's minister of justice who is representing his prime minister, Dudley Senanayake, at the conference, undertook immediately to check whether his chief also will agree to serve.

Hard To Refuse

Wilson's reasoning, apparently accepted by his colleagues, was that both North Viet Nam and Red China will find it difficult to refuse to receive a mission representing the 21-nation Commonwealth.

Fifteen members of Britain's global partnership are Asian and African nations.

Of these at least 12 will be taking part in the summit meeting of African and Asian countries in Algiers opening June 29. Presumably the peace mission will be over by then.

It was recognized by the Commonwealth leaders that there still remains a big gap between merely talking to the Hanoi and Peking governments and actually getting them to a peace conference.

LBJ Says Cabinet Will Probe Viet Peace Hope

Washington (AP) - President Johnson said Thursday the cabinet will explore Friday suggestions and hope for peace in Viet Nam and declared "we are delighted" that a British Commonwealth peace mission will visit the countries concerned.

"They will have our full cooperation," the President said.

At the same time, Johnson accused rebels in the Dominican Republic of trying to block the establishment of peace there.

In the latter case, he was referring to repeated and heavy firing on the Inter-American Force," Johnson said, "appeared to have been premeditated by elements which seek to prevent the establishment of peace in Santo Domingo."

In addition, the President disclosed at a news conference that there have been at least two contacts with North Vietnamese officials — contacts which he said produced word that the North Vietnamese getting into peace negotiations.

The President declined to say whether the contacts were made by an American. He read parts of what he said was a confidential report and said he was going to declassify them on the spot

No Viet Cong Talks

Johnson himself pretty much torpedoed the idea of any peace negotiations with the Viet Cong Communists operating in South Viet Nam. He said they represent no government This was a position he has taken before but it took on some added significance in the light of some senatorial proposals for discussions with the Viet Cong

The chief executive roamed over the whole field of foreign policy—a matter that will receive high priority at a cabinet session Friday.

He touched on plenty of other topics, too, in a news conference that ran on and on—beyond the limits he suggested himself

He announced the appointments of two judges to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals —important choices because of the civil rights issues that reach it. He said the government's financial situation has improved greatly by reason of lower expenditures, higher income and a consequent slash in the budget.

Right at the start, Johnson said he wanted to be sure everyone could hear him and suggested some reporters come around in back of his desk if they didn't mind looking at the back of his head. Quite a few of them didn't mind. He suggested that they yell "louder" if they couldn't hear.

The news conference was held in the oval presidential office.

Johuson said he would take 12 to 15 minutes with announcements and statements and proposed 20 minutes of questions and answers after that.

Johnson started outlining some of the things he had been talking to officials about when a feminine voice from the rear piped up and said

Gets Laughter

The President craned his neck, looked up through the crowd of newsmen in front of him, and got a roar of laughter by saying: "Good!"

When the 20 minutes of questioning and answering was up, Johnson remarked that "we'll take some more." And a few moments later he interrupted himself to say:

"I'll give you five more minutes to let me talk."

Several reporters tried to end the session with the customary "Thank you Mr. President." But he kept rambling on—even after some had raced out to begin reporting what had gone on up to that point.

U.S. Has Plan To Clear Out Rebels

. . . Latin's Assertion Disputed

Washington (AP) — A Latin American diplomat said Thursday the United States has developed plans for clearing the Dominican rebels out of Santo Domingo and also for disarming antirebel Dominican junta forces. Butthe State Department said no such operations are under consideration by the Inter-American Peace Force or the U.S. units under its command.

The department statement stopped short of denying the existence of contingency plans such as are normally made by military planners for dealing with situations which might or might not arise.

The diplomat said that a plan exists under the name "Operation Tiger" for clearing the Dominican rebels out of the city of Santo Domingo in a three-day operation. He said another contingency plan for disarming the forces of the junta, headed by Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, is called "Operation Puma."

No More Details

The diplomat said he had no indication of the circumstances under which the United States might decide to put "Operation Puma" into effect. And no further details on this plan were given.

Several Latin American ambassadors have said that time is working against a Dominican settlement because the positions of the junta and rebels are getting herder and thus more difficult to reconcile.

The diplomatic informant said that "Operation Tiger" would be by U.S. land and sea forces and would last about three days.

Latin Troops' Role

He said he could not say whether Latin American troops, which are a part of the Inter-American Force in Santo Domingo, would be involved.

Excise Cut Compromise Sent To LBJ

Washington (AP) — Congress passed and sent to President Johnson Thursday night a bill he requested wiping out excise taxes that cost consumers from pennies to dollars on products and services ranging from autos to pencils.

Senate passage came on a voice vote.

A quick presidential signature Friday, as sponsors hope, would give shoppers this weekend the benefit of a long list of repeals. Some would then go into effect Saturday and removal of the air conditioner tax and part of the auto tax would be retroactive to May 15.

The House passed the measure by voice vote with little discussion shortly after meeting Thursday. This followed Wednesday night's agreement by Senate-House conferees reconciling different versions passed earlier by the Senate and House.

The Senate cleared the measure to the White House early Thursday night with a longer debate triggered by the conferees action in dropping two major Senate provisions on the auto tax.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., told the Senate it was tragic that the conferees had knocked out his provision that erasing four percentage points of the auto tax would depend on the auto makers agreeing to install federally approved safety devices on all cars.

Ribicoff rejected what he calls "meaningless and oft-stated promises of the automakers, who have never given the American people the safe car they deserve." He blamed auto lobbyists for defeat of his amendment.

There were objections also to the conferees knocking out a Senate provision earmarking for removal of auto junkyards the one per cent tax that will be kept on autos

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the floor manager for the bill in the Senate, said he hoped Johnson might sign it Friday but emphasized he had no information on the point.

U.S. Says Rebels Fire Tear Gas

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States accused the rebels Thursday of firing tear gas at soldiers of the Inter-American Peace Force during renewed fighting this week.

In nine hours of sporadic skirmishing along the international security zone Wednesday night, another American paratrooper was shot to death and seven other soldiers, including four Brazilians, were wounded.

Four U.S. paratroopers now have been killed and 36 Americans wounded since Tuesday. Five Brazilian soldiers have been wounded, the only casualties among the Latin American units in the Inter-American Force

Lt Gen Bruce Palmer Jr. deputy commander of the Inter-American Force (IAF), accused the rebels of using tear gas on Tuesday and Wednesday. He said there were no casualties as a result of the attacks.

Palmer's statement, distributed by the Organization of American States (OAS) information office said that 15 to 20 tear gas grenades were fired and thrown from rebel territory Tuesday at two companies of the 82nd Airborne Division. The paratroopers put on protective masks.

Air-To-Air Missiles Down MIGs

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Missiles fired by two U.S. Navy F4 Phantom jets evened the dogfighting score over North Viet Nam Thursday with the confirmed kill of two MIG17s. The Red jet fighters, encountered 50 miles south of Hanoi, fell in flames.

U.S. military spokesman announced this sequel to the MIG's destruction of two U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers they waylaid during a 60-plane raid April 4 on a bridge at Thanh Hoa, 80 miles south of Saigon.

The four crewmen of the Phantoms, showered with congratulations, became overnight guests of Gen. William S. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, at his Saigon villa.

"They did a remarkable job," Westmoreland said.

'Tickled To Death'

The mood of the Navy fliers was reflected by the comment of one of the pilots, Lt. (j.g.) E. D. Batson Jr. of Buffalo, N.Y: "I'm tickled to death"

Cmdr. Louis C. Page of San Diego, Calif., the other pilot, implied there might be a celebration.

"We've been at sea quite a while and I have yet to get my first beer," he told newsmen.

'Great News'

U.S. Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze called their feat "great news"

A Saigon military spokesman and Page, as senior officer of the Phantom crewmen, gave these details of the encounter:

The supersonic Navy fighters, with heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles and radar-guided Sparrow missiles among their armament, were flying escort at 10,000 to 20,000 feet for other U.S. warplanes bombing targets north of Thanh Hoa when they sighted four MIGs in loose trail formation.

The Russian-built, Korean-vintage jets—each armed with one 37mm cannon and two 23mm cannon—bore the yellow and red insignia of North Viot Nam on their silver hulls.

The MIGs turned as if they were going to attack, but the formation apparently was hit before it had a chance to fire.

Second, Third Hits

The Phantoms' missiles knocked down the second and third planes in the formation and the others fled A parachute was seen opening above one of the falling, flaming MIGs. There was no word on whether the other Communist pilot tried to bail out.

LBJ Hails Gemini Pair As Space-Gap Closers

Washington (AP) — President Johnson hailed the Gemini twins Thursday as the men who opened wider the doors to space and closed the manned space flight gap between Russia and the United States.

Under murky skies and before a glittering assembly of Washington celebrities in the White House Rose Garden, Johnson decorated space walker Edward H. White II, his buddy, James A. McDivitt, and their boss, Charles W. Mathews.

The brilliant performance of Gemini 4, the President said, "together with the progress of our Apollo (moon flight) program, clearly indicates that the United States has closed the gap in manned space flight."

Exceptional Service Medal

All three men received the Exceptional Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration with their families standing nearby Several hundred persons attended the broadcast ceremonies.

Johnson also had awards for the five children of the two astronauts. The youngsters stood by somewhat restlessly as the speechmaking dragged on for some 45 minutes.

In fact, for a good deal of the ceremony, 4-year-old Patric McDivitt was in his own little world. Standing at the edge of the group beside his mother, young Patric twiddled his thumbs, wriggled, grinned, talked to his older brother, brother, Michael, 8, and Edward White, 12. While his father received his medal, Patric played a game all his own which looked like a cross between fly catching and shadow boxing.

Patric Perks Up

But even Patric perked up and paid attention as the President summoned the youngsters, one by one, over to the microphone. Johnson gave them each a medallion bearing his likeness and the seal of the presidential office.

Then the President invited the youngsters, and their parents, "to come to supper and stay all night."

The astronauts had a gift for the President, too. They gave him, in a wooden frame, an American flag that had whizzed about the earth with them for four days.

Then we shake down our piggy banks and Mom. Now comes the fun part, choosing Dad's favorite kind of Magee's Sport Coat. We decided on what the man said was muted plaid in a summer weight so Dad can wear it now. Dads need something cool in Nebraska. There were some seersucker stripes and some checks too. My kid brother's wearing the Slacks that come in co-or-din-a-ted colors. He looks awful funny but he can't help it if he's not tall like Dad yet. Dad can have his slacks kuffed at Magee's. We can hardly wait for Fathers' Day. Our Dad's cert'nly going to look distingwitched!

Sport Coats 29.95 to $100. Coordinated Slacks, 13.95 to 38.50.

Good Friends In Competition For 3rd Time

By JOHN LEE

Outstate Nebraska Bureau

York—Though the best of friends, Jean Leslie Johnson and Sharon Brumbaugh are making a habit of competing against each other.

They are at it now in the Miss Nebraska Scholarship Pageant at York.

The friendly rivalry started two years ago when the two 19-year-olds contested at Grand Island's Harvest of Harmony with their respective bands—Bradshaw High for Sharon and Stromsburg High for Jean.

Last year they faced off again for the Miss York Pageant.

Training At Bryan

Last fall they got together again in Lincoln where both are enrolled at Bryan Memorial School of Nursing.

"We live just a few doors away from each other in the dorm," Sharon noted.

The sparkly-eyed brunette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Brumbaugh of Bradshaw, decided to come back for a second try at the Miss York title.

In April her classmate Jean passed the crown on to her with every intention of being out of the pageant business.

But in Stromsburg, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, farm, the Commercial Club had different plans.

They commissioned the tall, blue-eyed blond to represent their community for the first time in the state contest.

So Jean and Sharon are again in competition, though "it doesn't feel like competition," Jean noted. "No, we're all in it together," Sharon added.

The pair would probably present a duet if the rules would allow it.

Instead they dug into the archives of grand old songs and came up with the "Soft Shoe" and "I'll See You In My Dreams," to which Sharon has worked up a tap dance routine, and Jean's vocal solo, "Music, Maestro, Please."

Will they still be friends if one should win the Miss Nebraska title? Of course.

"I'll even help her carry her trophy," Jean volunteered.

'I'll take her along in the convertible," replied Sharon.

Council Not Taking Stand On Power Bill

Columbus (AP)—The Columbus City Council, in a lengthy and heated session, has refused to go on record as favoring or opposing the passage of LB764, the power merger bill.

The measure would merge the three major power districts, Loup, Platte and Consumers into a single district. It is one of the most controversial measures of the current session.

Columbus is headquarters for Loup, Consumer, the Nebraska Public Power System and several other power agencies—carrying the unofficial title of power capital of Nebraska.

A resolution which would have put the council on record in opposition to LB764, deadlocked 4-4 and Mayor Barney Micek cast the deciding "no" vote.

Subsequently Councilman Dwayne Smith offered another resolution, which he said was prepared by Consumers Public Power District, favoring passage of the measure. That failed to receive a single "yes" vote.

Youth Involved In Scuffle With Trooper Charged

Hastings (AP)—Kenneth Ray Burton, 19-year-old Clay Center, Kan., youth, was bound over to District Court when he appeared in County Court on a charge of car theft.

Burton engaged in a scuffle with State Trooper Richard Bronson Tuesday after Bronson had halted Burton's car following a chase at speeds up to 120 miles an hour on Highway 6 near Harvard.

Trooper Bronson related that Burton jumped him as the trooper tried to handcuff the Kansan. Bronson said that during the ensuing scuffle Burton grabbed the trooper's gun out of its holster and backed off.

Bronson said Burton pulled back the hammer and demanded the keys to the trooper's car. Bronson tossed them to the ground beside Burton. When Burton let down the gun's hammer and took his eyes off the trooper, Bronson moved in and regained possession of the weapon.

Burton fled into a wheat field where he was caught by Trooper Clifford Windholt, who had answered a call from Bronson for aid. Windholt said he sighted Burton when the youth raised his head to look over the field.

Columbus (AP)—The Columbus City Council, in a lengthy and heated session, has refused to go on record as favoring or opposing the passage of LB764, the power merger bill.

The measure would merge the three major power districts, Loup, Platte and Consumers into a single district. It is one of the most controversial measures of the current session.

Columbus is headquarters for Loup, Consumer, the Nebraska Public Power System and several other power agencies—carrying the unofficial title of power capital of Nebraska.

A resolution which would have put the council on record in opposition to LB764, deadlocked 4-4 and Mayor Barney Micek cast the deciding "no" vote.

Subsequently Councilman Dwayne Smith offered another resolution, which he said was prepared by Consumers Public Power District, favoring passage of the measure. That failed to receive a single "yes" vote.

Youth Involved In Scuffle With Trooper Charged

Hastings (AP)—Kenneth Ray Burton, 19-year-old Clay Center, Kan., youth, was bound over to District Court when he appeared in County Court on a charge of car theft.

Burton engaged in a scuffle with State Trooper Richard Bronson Tuesday after Bronson had halted Burton's car following a chase at speeds up to 120 miles an hour on Highway 6 near Harvard.

Trooper Bronson related that Burton jumped him as the trooper tried to handcuff the Kansan. Bronson said that during the ensuing scuffle Burton grabbed the trooper's gun out of its holster and backed off.

Bronson said Burton pulled back the hammer and demanded the keys to the trooper's car. Bronson tossed them to the ground beside Burton. When Burton let down the gun's hammer and took his eyes off the trooper, Bronson moved in and regained possession of the weapon.

Burton fled into a wheat field where he was caught by Trooper Clifford Windholt, who had answered a call from Bronson for aid. Windholt said he sighted Burton when the youth raised his head to look over the field.

Columbus-Made Resistors Part Of Space Capsule

Columbus (AP) — Nebraska-made components were part of the space vehicle Gemini 4, which made its successful voyage earlier this month, it was disclosed here.

W. R. Simpson, president of Dale Electronics, said high reliability resistors made by Dale contributed to the functioning of the capsule's digital command system and transpondency equipment.

Barrett Elected

Omaha (AP) — F. T. Barrett was elected senior vice president of the Cudahy Packing Company Thursday, the board of directors announced. Barrett will continue as general counsel and secretary as well as chairman of the executive policy committee.

Equality Hard To Come By

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The full weight of the federal court decision in Nebraska's apportionment situation has begun to fall upon the Unicameral's Committee on Committees. It is this committee of state senators whose responsibility it is to recommend to their colleagues an apportionment plan in keeping with the "one man, one vote" requirements of the federal courts.

Roadblock Of Boundaries

At first glance, it might seem like an easy task to meet that requirement. Any intelligent individual ought to be able to divide the state into 49 or 50 areas, each containing the same number of people. This could easily be done except for two things — requirements of the state constitution that make it impossible and the maintaining of common interests among the people of the various districts that are to be carved out of the state. The state constitution says you can't cross county lines in establishing districts and that immediately presents problems that are obvious.

Thus, the Legislature faces several possibilities. It could reduce the size of the Unicameral to about 37 members from the present 49 and come up with a population count in each district that would probably satisfy the one man, one vote doctrine.

This the senators do not seem inclined to do since it would jeopardize the seats now held by many members of the Legislature. Also, such a change would alter the character and the organizational structure of the Legislature and that provides an uncertainty with which senators are not entirely happy.

Secondly, the Legislature could appeal the decision of the three-man federal court panel which ruled the state's latest apportionment scheme unconstitutional. At the moment, this seems like the direction in which senators are leaning but it might well be the worst choice of all. One senator has said that such an approach offers everything to gain and nothing to lose. That is not quite the fact. Time is one thing that can be lost and that it is an important factor or ingredient. Senators will be elected in 1966 for the 1967 session of the Legislature and that doesn't allow much time to have ready an apportionment plan of unquestioned legality.

Now, any direction the senators go will involve some risk and uncertainty. But what are the greatest likelihoods? It is not at all likely that the higher federal courts would reverse the ruling of the three-man federal court panel. This decision was rendered in complete harmony with past decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and the focal point of those decisions is clear to all. They clearly nail down the idea that you must have representation based on population. That is, every senator must represent very close to the same number of people so that all people have equal representation. The Nebraska plan that would be appealed simply does not do that and to appeal it would seem to be nothing more than a delaying action. It would leave us early next year at the same point at which we are today and with elections coming fast upon us. At-large election of senators could be the result and that would be a very poor situation.

Reduction of the size of the Legislature to 37 members from equal districts that respect county lines would be preferable to an appeal in the federal courts. While this was being done, the state could also vote on an amendment that would permit the crossing of county lines in establishing districts. If that carried, the Legislature in 1967 could draw up new districts and go back to its 49 members or whatever number the constitution might at the time provide for.

That approach is probably the most certain of all and avoids the courts in favor of the electorate. It is a course of action that demonstrates the least playing of politics and the maximum reliance and faith in the law. It is not perfect but it is not a dodge nor a subterfuge.

Not A Matter Of Conflict

Crossing of county lines and then a test case in state courts on the violation of the state constitution have one major weakness. The state courts could rule that the Federal Constitution was supreme, which it is, and that the state constitution, therefore, did not apply. But this ruling would be most likely to come only when and if the state and federal constitutions were in absolute conflict and such is not quite the case here. Supreme Court interpretations of the Federal Constitution do not mean we cannot have an apportionment plan that is lawful under both the state and federal constitutions.

These interpretations mean only that we cannot have the kind of plan we want, a 49 or 50-member body. We can have a 37-member body that meets both federal and state requirements, so the total conflict between federal and state does not exist and the question of federal supremacy is a moot question. Discarding politics and personal preferences and looking simply at what is right, the 37-member approach coupled with submission of constitutional amendments in 1966 is the most honorable and promising course of action.

Pacifists Hard To Live With

If the freedom of assembly and speech are ever given grudgingly, they are so given in the case of pacifists demonstrations such as the one that took place this week in the Pentagon. The group urged withdrawal of American forces from Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, refusal to work on the part of Defense Department personnel and refusal to serve in the armed forces of the country.

One member of the group reportedly is returning to the government his honorable discharge from the service after five years in the military during World War II. The action is presented as a denial of the current foreign policy of this country.

One cannot help but wonder what it is that brings on this kind of action on the part of a citizen of this nation. There can be and are differences of opinion in regard to U.S. foreign policy but withdrawal now from Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic would be catastrophic for the Western world. It would be a communist victory of staggering magnitude.

And to denounce one's nation as a demonstration of a difference of opinion is a denial of the principles of democracy by which our people live. The pursuit of peace at any price is a form of surrender that is sickening to the average individual. Those who turn on their nation as a form of protest are hardly worthy of the citizenship that is their birthright. Perhaps it is best just to pity them for the darkness in which they live.

The ETV Budget

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission has adopted a 1965-67 budget of $3,655,732—a sum which would keep the development of a statewide education television network on schedule.

This was based on an early estimate of $2.6 million from the state cigaret tax and $1 million in federal aid from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The budget may be unrealistic for at the rate the cigaret tax is coming in, the two year total may be as low as $1.76 million. Instead of averaging $66 thousand a month it is presently bringing in closer to $52 thousand.

The $3,655,732 budget will not result in a critical condition if tax funds do not improve. The commission expects to spend only from actual funds received. If tax income does not live up to hopes, the full development of the service will be delayed beyond target date.

The establishment of Educational Television is one of Nebraska's most far seeing achievements and will be of untold benefit to Nebraska people. It will bring new knowledge to adults and school children alike. From this point of view it would be unfortunate to fall behind development schedule. But it is still more important that Nebraska has made a firm decision and that the ETV program is steadily forging forward. It is more important that we are doing it than to have it completed by a preset day. The reality of it is more important than the plan.

The commission is to be congratulated on its past good work and is not out of line in anticipating its maximum budget.

Latin American Walkout

There are warnings that the Organization of American States will soon go out of business. The Dominican Republic crisis was the straw that broke the camel's back.

The trouble is obvious. The United States is the principal member simply because it is big and powerful. The smaller and weaker Latin American countries feel that the OAS, therefore, is simply an arrangement through which they must do the bidding of the U.S.A. They feel they have no sovereignty in it.

We must admit there is some truth in that, but it is by no means the whole truth. One truth is that any arrangement whereby the weaker nations are to be protected must invade a sovereignty which the weaker nations themselves cannot exercise. Eliminating the OAS cannot change that, and if the academic sovereignty is not protected the weaker states have no guarantee at all against other strong forces. There is no easy solution for such a problem.

The United States, which has become one of the world's most powerful nations, must face the inevitable fact that the bigger and more powerful one gets the more opponents he acquires, if the world gets into the fix that the greater force is the right force, which is today's situation. We are not losing friends because we have become an ugly people, but because we have become so powerful. This is a lesson we must learn. It must guide our statecraft. We cannot act as we did 100 years ago because we were much less formidable then.

Our contribution to the survival of the OAS is much more restraint while the Latin American countries must weigh the alternative to our protection, which is a very dark prospect.

Say Pipeline Was Overloaded

WASHINGTON—A "classified" report withheld from the public by the Federal Power Commission indicates there may be danger of more tragic pipeline explosions of the type that cremated 17 people as they slept in their homes at Natchitoches, La., last March.

Some of the experts even believe that the corroded metal in the older pipelines of the nation should be entirely replaced if the lives of people living alongside the lines are to be safe.

This column has now obtained a copy of the report gathering dust in the files of the Federal Power Commission and it reveals shocking facts. The inside story behind its suppression is equally shocking.

It shows that the tragedy occurred because Tennessee Gas Transmission was pumping gas through its line at a pressure too great for the pipe. Even more shocking, the report shows that 12 hours after 17 people had been burned to death, Tennessee Gas resumed pumping gas at the same excessive rate of 765 psig (pounds per square inch gauge) despite the fact that only 750 psig was recommended for the pipe.

Here is the story of what happened as first told by Dr. Charles E. Cook, coroner of Natchitoches parish, who got to the scene of the tragedy 17 minutes after it happened:

"I took some photographs of that gigantic, impressive, roaring fiery torch. The escaping gas exploded and it appeared as though a giant blowtorch had been set off . . . the houses and garage were totally demolished as were several cars and trucks; also some of the livestock were killed.

"The undertakers on the scene were instructed to label their disaster packs as to the location the bodies were discovered to aid identification. A total of two boxes of chalky bones and charred flesh were found scattered throughout three houses where the deaths occurred. We were able to locate only 16 separate bodily remains; however there were bones found at the location which could correspond with the missing body, completing a total of 17 victims who perished in the fire."

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., immediately called for a Federal Power Commission investigation, a report on which was first prepared by Olaf W. Nelson of the FPC pipeline division, who had gone to the scene of the tragedy with William J. Drescher, chief of the division, Ellery K. Johnson, supervising engineer, and Louis A. Brubaker, Jr., also a supervising engineer, all of the Bureau of Natural Gas.

When Nelson's report was submitted to Frank F. Watters, chief of the Bureau of Natural Gas, and his deputy, Louis W. Mendonsa, they cautiously rejected it. It was considered too tough.

Hatfield Preparing For Senate Race

SALEM, Ore.—Early this spring it was noticed here that Gov. Mark Hatfield and his pretty wife were having cozy dinner parties for old friends and supporters about three times a week. If he had advertised it on a billboard, those familiar with Hatfield's methodical ways could not have been more certain that he was putting his campaign for the United States Senate into gear

By contrast, the incumbent Democrat, Sen. Maurine Neuberger, is felt to be increasingly alien to her constituency. A puzzled associate says he has never seen any politician do less to further his interests. A wise Republican says flatly that the Democrats really have no candidate, and he looks for Hatfield to be elected.

Democrats do not deny that they are presently discouraged, but as they enjoy better than a 100,000 registration margin, they contend their nomination is worth fighting for and that a winning campaign can be constructed with the help of the national administration. If Senator Neuberger does not soon start a vigorous effort to regain lost ground, there will be a bruising fight, for no other Democrat has an outstanding claim upon the nomination.

What seems to have happened is that Democrats have not proved able to sustain the momentum achieved by the late Sen. Richard Neuberger, Howard Morgan and Monroe Sweetland in the '50s. Neuberger especially galvanized young voters, and the triumvirate smashed through aging organizations in both parties.

Neuberger went to the Senate, where ill health overtook him. Morgan, a fighting type, served briefly in the Kennedy administration where he was involved in some controversies, including arguments with the then attorney general, Robert Kennedy. He is back here and still has a voice in party councils, but Sweetland has faded away.

Maurine Neuberger won her husband's seat handily in 1960 soon after his death. She was his working partner and had served in the state legislature with him.

It would still have been difficult for her to maintain his legend from Washington and keep close contact with his troops. Then last year she married Dr. Philip Solomon of Boston. That involved her in the jest that Massachusetts has four senators: Leverett Saltonstall, Edward and Robert Kennedy and Maurine Neuberger Solomon.

☆ ☆ ☆

By coincidence, the apparent leader today of the forces of enlightenment stirred up by Richard Neuberger is a scion of Bay State families who include two governors of Massachusetts among their ancestors. He is Republican secretary of state Tom McCall, a 6-foot-5 television commentator, who will try for the nomination to succeed Hatfield.

In his own campaign last year McCall wouldn't touch the Goldwater ticket and won with 62 percent of the total vote.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

White, McDivitt And St. Nick

By Mona B. Parker

The abundance of rainfall has been so constant as to reach the point of monotony, complains the Bruning Banner. "It would be easier to report the days it doesn't rain."

☆ ☆ ☆

Gladys Lindstrom, lady editor of the Gazette, says that the weatherman has been coming just a bit too close to Gresham lately for comfort. Hail, winds and heavy rain have all been part of the fare . . .

Benefits of the moisture, she appreciates, "but we could do without all the side trimmings."

There is an added minor problem connected with the fluctuating temperatures these days, too, according to J. C. Crosland of the Hooker County Tribune at Mullen. Cool temperatures in the morning dictate closed car windows on the drive down to work.

"If you leave them closed, the car feels like the inside of an un-insulated space craft by noon. If you do leave them open, you have to keep an eye out for a sudden shower.

"Maybe we ought to walk."

A Hastings youngster was as interested as everyone else in the space flight that reached to new distances and dimensions. He had one main inquiry and that was whether or not the two travelers "saw Santa Claus up there."

Soon we'll be going into summer, observes the Oxford Standard—"the season that bugs us!" Anyone desiring to do yard work in the evening, the paper advises to go forth heavily fortified.

Mrs. Joe Heitz, columnist for the Schuyler Sun, thinks that perhaps walking in space is fine for astronauts equipped for such, but she discovered the hard way that it isn't for her. She was up on a ladder painting and decided to step back. From the fourth step, yet. "Maybe Astronaut White could jaunt about in space a hundred miles or more up in the air, but it didn't work a bit well for me. Gravity moved the floor down about four flights. The shock of my landing rocked the neighborhood for four blocks around and there was no rescue team standing by to get me ambulatory again. Walking in space is the bunk, especially backwards . . ."

The Hub claims that a particularly large variety of mosquito is now plaguing Kearney, to the extent that city fogging machine crews have started control work. Someone there who has done some studying on the habits of the insect comes up with some rather enlightening statistics . . .

The life of a mosquito is 72 hours and unless the wind blows the little pests farther, they seldom range more than three city blocks from the point where they hatch.

But along with the bad of summer living is also the good, if you happen to be fiscatorially inclined (fish-minded, Clyde) . . .

The local Ikes are really hitting the ponds around Stanton, reports Register Editor Marlin Waechter, and the usual stories of success and failure of catches are forthcoming. Mr. Waechter himself announces that he would like to point out a scientific fact:

"The yellow catfish mates only once during its lifetime, so if you catch one, you're a home-wrecker!"

Dorothy Payne is as proud of Hooper's swimming pool as the next and feels, along with everyone else, that it is well worth all the time and effort they have spent in obtaining it. Then she echoes in the Sentinel what some of the other parents and adults may be thinking . . .

"I still wish someone would put in some shuffleboard courts at Memorial Park. It would be nice for us senior citizens."

Vote On Merger

Bennet, Neb.

The proponents for the proposed consolidation of the Alvo-Eagle, Bennet, Palmyra and Walton Districts are asking us to vote for this consolidation for two main reasons:

(1) It will provide for greater school administration economies, and therefore it will be cheaper.

(2) It will provide better teaching facilities and teaching staff, and therefore it will provide a better school for our children.

The proponents of this consoldiation are only predicting what they hope will be attained. They have no proof that these ends will be accomplished.

Would it be more economical? Would it be cheaper? In the last 20 or more years, there has been a continuous merger and consolidation of school districts in the State of Nebraska. Has this meant a decrease or even a hold-the-line in school taxes? In my own case, our school taxes have increased nearly 350% in the last 20 years.

Would this proposed consolidation provide a better school for our children? The issue is not whether we want a better school, because on this there can be no issue. The little one-room school house has become almost a thing of the past because of the same reasoning—that it is uneconomical and children would get a better education in larger and more modern schools with better qualified teachers. Yet when we closed our country school, District 27, and the children all went to town school, nearly one third of them were on the honor roll the next year and on the average scholastically were ahead of their city cousins.

Three years ago the Bennet High School graduated a class of eight students—four boys and four girls. Six of the eight went on to advanced schooling. Three years later we find: One has a Regents scholarship and is an honor student in the College of Arts and Sciences, majoring in math and physics. Another is one of 80-some who were accepted out of over 300 who took the pre-med examination. He plans to enter medical school this fall. Another is an honor stu- in home economics. Another is successfully making his grades at Peru. Another graduated from business school and worked until she married. I doubt if another school in Nebraska could surpass or even equal this class record.

So far I have not seen any certified proof by the State Department of Education or any other source that colleges have any more drop-outs, proportionately, by students from small schools than from large schools, or that the average scholar from a small school has any harder time making grades than the average scholar from a large school.

These examples do not prove that all good students come from small schools or that all small schools are good schools. They do seem to prove, though, that there are many factors which determine the quality of any school, many of which are within the reach of a small school. While it is true that a school may be too small to be economical or adequate, there is also evidence that a school can be too large.

Tuesday, June 22, we will vote on this issue. Regardless of how we decide to vote, let us vote. A lot of people have fought and died so that we can have the privilege of voting on this and other issues. Let us exercise this privilege and duty. Then, without malice, let us abide by the decision of the majority. There is no excuse for malice, but neither is there any excuse for apathy. Let us all vote.

A Tribute

North Bend, Neb.

Just a few lines to commemorate the fond memories of many dads on Father's Day who can no longer be with their children.

There have been many pages of beautiful poetry, honor and glory for Mother's Day in years past, but not until recently has someone thought also of setting aside a day for Dad. Lest we forget, it was Dad who went off to World War I, World War II, Korea and now South Viet Nam. There are many dads who are now spending their declining years and the evening of their lives in veterans' hospitals, disabled, broken in spirit and body, making poppies for Memorial Day and leather purses and other articles to help forget yesterday and the bleakness of tomorrow.

It was Dad who worried about jobs for the survival of his family in depression years when foreclosures and evictions were among other burdens silently carried by him. It is true that Dad could never show his emotions in time of sorrow, trouble and heartbreak, but it was that firm clasp of his hand that gave me the reassurance I needed most when the chips were down that have inspired these words of tribute for all dads on Father's Day.

While this was being done, the state could also vote on an amendment that would permit the crossing of county lines in establishing districts. If that carried, the Legislature in 1967 could draw up new districts and go back to its 49 members or whatever number the constitution might at the time provide for.

That approach is probably the most certain of all and avoids the courts in favor of the electorate. It is a course of action that demonstrates the least playing of politics and the maximum reliance and faith in the law. It is not perfect but it is not a dodge nor a subterfuge.

Crossing of county lines and then a test case in state courts on the violation of the state constitution have one major weakness. The state courts could rule that the Federal Constitution was supreme, which it is, and that the state constitution, therefore, did not apply. But this ruling would be most likely to come only when and if the state and federal constitutions were in absolute conflict and such is not quite the case here. Supreme Court interpretations of the Federal Constitution do not mean we cannot have an apportionment plan that is lawful under both the state and federal constitutions.

Not A Matter Of Conflict

These interpretations mean only that we cannot have the kind of plan we want, a 49 or 50-member body. We can have a 37-member body that meets both federal and state requirements, so the total conflict between federal and state does not exist and the question of federal supremacy is a moot question. Discarding politics and personal preferences and looking simply at what is right, the 37-member approach coupled with submission of constitutional amendments in 1966 is the most honorable and promising course of action.

Pacifists Hard To Live With

If the freedom of assembly and speech are ever given grudgingly, they are so given in the case of pacifists demonstrations such as the one that took place this week in the Pentagon. The group urged withdrawal of American forces from Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, refusal to work on the part of Defense Department personnel and refusal to serve in the armed forces of the country.

One member of the group reportedly is returning to the government his honorable discharge from the service after five years in the military during World War II. The action is presented as a denial of the current foreign policy of this country.

One cannot help but wonder what it is that brings on this kind of action on the part of a citizen of this nation. There can be and are differences of opinion in regard to U.S. foreign policy but withdrawal now from Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic would be catastrophic for the Western world. It would be a communist victory of staggering magnitude.

And to denounce one's nation as a demonstration of a difference of opinion is a denial of the principles of democracy by which our people live. The pursuit of peace at any price is a form of surrender that is sickening to the average individual. Those who turn on their nation as a form of protest are hardly worthy of the citizenship that is their birthright. Perhaps it is best just to pity them for the darkness in which they live.

The ETV Budget

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission has adopted a 1965-67 budget of $3,655,732—a sum which would keep the development of a statewide education television network on schedule.

This was based on an early estimate of $2.6 million from the state cigaret tax and $1 million in federal aid from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The budget may be unrealistic for at the rate the cigaret tax is coming in, the two year total may be as low as $1.76 million. Instead of averaging $66 thousand a month it is presently bringing in closer to $52 thousand.

The $3,655,732 budget will not result in a critical condition if tax funds do not improve. The commission expects to spend only from actual funds received. If tax income does not live up to hopes, the full development of the service will be delayed beyond target date.

The establishment of Educational Television is one of Nebraska's most far seeing achievements and will be of untold benefit to Nebraska people. It will bring new knowledge to adults and school children alike. From this point of view it would be unfortunate to fall behind development schedule. But it is still more important that Nebraska has made a firm decision and that the ETV program is steadily forging forward. It is more important that we are doing it than to have it completed by a preset day. The reality of it is more important than the plan.

The commission is to be congratulated on its past good work and is not out of line in anticipating its maximum budget.

Latin American Walkout

There are warnings that the Organization of American States will soon go out of business. The Dominican Republic crisis was the straw that broke the camel's back.

The trouble is obvious. The United States is the principal member simply because it is big and powerful. The smaller and weaker Latin American countries feel that the OAS, therefore, is simply an arrangement through which they must do the bidding of the U.S.A. They feel they have no sovereignty in it.

We must admit there is some truth in that, but it is by no means the whole truth. One truth is that any arrangement whereby the weaker nations are to be protected must invade a sovereignty which the weaker nations themselves cannot exercise. Eliminating the OAS cannot change that, and if the academic sovereignty is not protected the weaker states have no guarantee at all against other strong forces. There is no easy solution for such a problem.

The United States, which has become one of the world's most powerful nations, must face the inevitable fact that the bigger and more powerful one gets the more opponents he acquires, if the world gets into the fix that the greater force is the right force, which is today's situation. We are not losing friends because we have become an ugly people, but because we have become so powerful. This is a lesson we must learn. It must guide our statecraft. We cannot act as we did 100 years ago because we were much less formidable then.

Our contribution to the survival of the OAS is much more restraint while the Latin American countries must weigh the alternative to our protection, which is a very dark prospect.

Say Pipeline Was Overloaded

WASHINGTON—A "classified" report withheld from the public by the Federal Power Commission indicates there may be danger of more tragic pipeline explosions of the type that cremated 17 people as they slept in their homes at Natchitoches, La., last March.

Some of the experts even believe that the corroded metal in the older pipelines of the nation should be entirely replaced if the lives of people living alongside the lines are to be safe.

This column has now obtained a copy of the report gathering dust in the files of the Federal Power Commission and it reveals shocking facts. The inside story behind its suppression is equally shocking.

It shows that the tragedy occurred because Tennessee Gas Transmission was pumping gas through its line at a pressure too great for the pipe. Even more shocking, the report shows that 12 hours after 17 people had been burned to death, Tennessee Gas resumed pumping gas at the same excessive rate of 765 psig (pounds per square inch gauge) despite the fact that only 750 psig was recommended for the pipe.

Here is the story of what happened as first told by Dr. Charles E. Cook, coroner of Natchitoches parish, who got to the scene of the tragedy 17 minutes after it happened:

"I took some photographs of that gigantic, impressive, roaring fiery torch. The escaping gas exploded and it appeared as though a giant blowtorch had been set off . . . the houses and garage were totally demolished as were several cars and trucks; also some of the livestock were killed.

"The undertakers on the scene were instructed to label their disaster packs as to the location the bodies were discovered to aid identification. A total of two boxes of chalky bones and charred flesh were found scattered throughout three houses where the deaths occurred. We were able to locate only 16 separate bodily remains; however there were bones found at the location which could correspond with the missing body, completing a total of 17 victims who perished in the fire."

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., immediately called for a Federal Power Commission investigation, a report on which was first prepared by Olaf W. Nelson of the FPC pipeline division, who had gone to the scene of the tragedy with William J. Drescher, chief of the division, Ellery K. Johnson, supervising engineer, and Louis A. Brubaker, Jr., also a supervising engineer, all of the Bureau of Natural Gas.

When Nelson's report was submitted to Frank F. Watters, chief of the Bureau of Natural Gas, and his deputy, Louis W. Mendonsa, they cautiously rejected it. It was considered too tough.

Hatfield Preparing For Senate Race

SALEM, Ore.—Early this spring it was noticed here that Gov. Mark Hatfield and his pretty wife were having cozy dinner parties for old friends and supporters about three times a week. If he had advertised it on a billboard, those familiar with Hatfield's methodical ways could not have been more certain that he was putting his campaign for the United States Senate into gear

By contrast, the incumbent Democrat, Sen. Maurine Neuberger, is felt to be increasingly alien to her constituency. A puzzled associate says he has never seen any politician do less to further his interests. A wise Republican says flatly that the Democrats really have no candidate, and he looks for Hatfield to be elected.

Democrats do not deny that they are presently discouraged, but as they enjoy better than a 100,000 registration margin, they contend their nomination is worth fighting for and that a winning campaign can be constructed with the help of the national administration. If Senator Neuberger does not soon start a vigorous effort to regain lost ground, there will be a bruising fight, for no other Democrat has an outstanding claim upon the nomination.

What seems to have happened is that Democrats have not proved able to sustain the momentum achieved by the late Sen. Richard Neuberger, Howard Morgan and Monroe Sweetland in the '50s. Neuberger especially galvanized young voters, and the triumvirate smashed through aging organizations in both parties.

Neuberger went to the Senate, where ill health overtook him. Morgan, a fighting type, served briefly in the Kennedy administration where he was involved in some controversies, including arguments with the then attorney general, Robert Kennedy. He is back here and still has a voice in party councils, but Sweetland has faded away.

Maurine Neuberger won her husband's seat handily in 1960 soon after his death. She was his working partner and had served in the state legislature with him.

It would still have been difficult for her to maintain his legend from Washington and keep close contact with his troops. Then last year she married Dr. Philip Solomon of Boston. That involved her in the jest that Massachusetts has four senators: Leverett Saltonstall, Edward and Robert Kennedy and Maurine Neuberger Solomon.

☆ ☆ ☆

By coincidence, the apparent leader today of the forces of enlightenment stirred up by Richard Neuberger is a scion of Bay State families who include two governors of Massachusetts among their ancestors. He is Republican secretary of state Tom McCall, a 6-foot-5 television commentator, who will try for the nomination to succeed Hatfield.

In his own campaign last year McCall wouldn't touch the Goldwater ticket and won with 62 percent of the total vote.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

White, McDivitt And St. Nick

By Mona B. Parker

The abundance of rainfall has been so constant as to reach the point of monotony, complains the Bruning Banner. "It would be easier to report the days it doesn't rain."

☆ ☆ ☆

Gladys Lindstrom, lady editor of the Gazette, says that the weatherman has been coming just a bit too close to Gresham lately for comfort. Hail, winds and heavy rain have all been part of the fare . . .

There is an added minor problem connected with the fluctuating temperatures these days, too, according to J. C. Crosland of the Hooker County Tribune at Mullen. Cool temperatures in the morning dictate closed car windows on the drive down to work.

"If you leave them closed, the car feels like the inside of an un-insulated space craft by noon. If you do leave them open, you have to keep an eye out for a sudden shower.

A Hastings youngster was as interested as everyone else in the space flight that reached to new distances and dimensions. He had one main inquiry and that was whether or not the two travelers "saw Santa Claus up there."

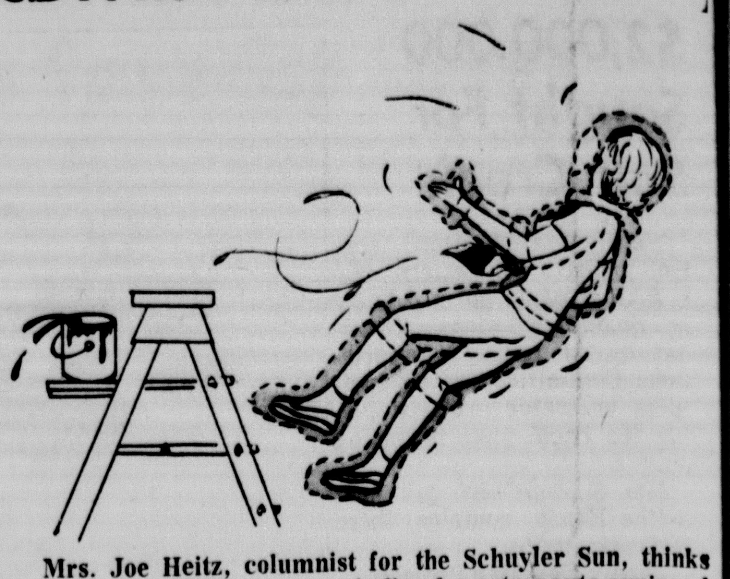
Soon we'll be going into summer, observes the Oxford Standard—"the season that bugs us!" Anyone desiring to do yard work in the evening, the paper advises to go forth heavily fortified.



Mrs. Joe Heitz, columnist for the Schuyler Sun, thinks that perhaps walking in space is fine for astronauts equipped for such, but she discovered the hard way that it isn't for her. She was up on a ladder painting and decided to step back. From the fourth step, yet. "Maybe Astronaut White could jaunt about in space a hundred miles or more up in the air, but it didn't work a bit well for me. Gravity moved the floor down about four flights. The shock of my landing rocked the neighborhood for four blocks around and there was no rescue team standing by to get me ambulatory again. Walking in space is the bunk, especially backwards . . ."

The Hub claims that a particularly large variety of mosquito is now plaguing Kearney, to the extent that city fogging machine crews have started control work. Someone there who has done some studying on the habits of the insect comes up with some rather enlightening statistics . . .

The life of a mosquito is 72 hours and unless the wind blows the little pests farther, they seldom range more than three city blocks from the point where they hatch.

But along with the bad of summer living is also the good, if you happen to be fiscatorially inclined (fish-minded, Clyde) . . .

The local Ikes are really hitting the ponds around Stanton, reports Register Editor Marlin Waechter, and the usual stories of success and failure of catches are forthcoming. Mr. Waechter himself announces that he would like to point out a scientific fact:

Dorothy Payne is as proud of Hooper's swimming pool as the next and feels, along with everyone else, that it is well worth all the time and effort they have spent in obtaining it. Then she echoes in the Sentinel what some of the other parents and adults may be thinking . . .

"I still wish someone would put in some shuffleboard courts at Memorial Park. It would be nice for us senior citizens."

Vote On Merger

Bennet, Neb.

The proponents for the proposed consolidation of the Alvo-Eagle, Bennet, Palmyra and Walton Districts are asking us to vote for this consolidation for two main reasons:

(1) It will provide for greater school administration economies, and therefore it will be cheaper.

(2) It will provide better teaching facilities and teaching staff, and therefore it will provide a better school for our children.

The proponents of this consoldiation are only predicting what they hope will be attained. They have no proof that these ends will be accomplished.

Would it be more economical? Would it be cheaper? In the last 20 or more years, there has been a continuous merger and consolidation of school districts in the State of Nebraska. Has this meant a decrease or even a hold-the-line in school taxes? In my own case, our school taxes have increased nearly 350% in the last 20 years.

Would this proposed consolidation provide a better school for our children? The issue is not whether we want a better school, because on this there can be no issue. The little one-room school house has become almost a thing of the past because of the same reasoning—that it is uneconomical and children would get a better education in larger and more modern schools with better qualified teachers. Yet when we closed our country school, District 27, and the children all went to town school, nearly one third of them were on the honor roll the next year and on the average scholastically were ahead of their city cousins.

Three years ago the Bennet High School graduated a class of eight students—four boys and four girls. Six of the eight went on to advanced schooling. Three years later we find: One has a Regents scholarship and is an honor student in the College of Arts and Sciences, majoring in math and physics. Another is one of 80-some who were accepted out of over 300 who took the premed examination. He plans to enter medical school this fall. Another is an honor stu-in home economics. Another is successfully making his grades at Peru. Another graduated from business school and worked until she married. I doubt if another school in Nebraska could surpass or even equal this class record.

So far I have not seen any certified proof by the State Department of Education or any other source that colleges have any more dropouts, proportionately, by students from small schools than from large schools, or that the average scholar from a small school has any harder time making grades than the average scholar from a large school.

These examples do not prove that all good students come from small schools or that all small schools are good schools. They do seem to prove, though, that there are many factors which determine the quality of any school, many of which are within the reach of a small school. While it is true that a school may be too small to be economical or adequate, there is also evidence that a school can be too large.

Tuesday, June 22, we will vote on this issue. Regardless of how we decide to vote, let us vote. A lot of people have fought and died so that we can have the privilege of voting on this and other issues. Let us exercise this privilege and duty. Then, without malice, let us abide by the decision of the majority. There is no excuse for malice, but neither is there any excuse for apathy. Let us all vote.

A Tribute

North Bend, Neb.

Just a few lines to commemorate the fond memories of many dads on Father's Day who can no longer be with their children.

There have been many pages of beautiful poetry, honor and glory for Mother's Day in years past, but not until recently has someone thought also of setting aside a day for Dad. Lest we forget, it was Dad who went off to World War I, World War II, Korea and now South Viet Nam. There are many dads who are now spending their declining years and the evening of their lives in veterans' hospitals, disabled, broken in spirit and body, making poppies for Memorial Day and leather purses and other articles to help forget yesterday and the bleakness of tomorrow.

It was Dad who worried about jobs for the survival of his family in depression years when foreclosures and evictions were among other burdens silently carried by him. It is true that Dad could never show his emotions in time of sorrow, trouble and heartbreak, but it was that firm clasp of his hand that gave me the reassurance I needed most when the chips were down that have inspired these words of tribute for all dads on Father's Day.

3 Schools Recommended For Top Accreditation

The Fremont, Kearney and Ralston school systems Thursday were recommended for the highest level of quality performance recognition, double "A" accreditation

The State Accreditation Committee wound up its annual two-day session suggesting the accreditation of eight systems be raised and one lowered.

If the State Board of Education concurs next month, Elwood in Gosper County will drop from a minor-accredited to an approved, or non-accredited, school.

Fremont, Kearney and Ralston would join 13 other districts in the top standing.

The only district recommended to make the jump from approved to a fully-accredited status is District 160 in southeastern Lancaster County.

Four approved schools are proposed for advancement as minor-accredited. They are Bushnell Wolbach, Halsey-Dunning and Grand Island Northwest

Warnings that accreditation criteria have not been fully met will be sent to 20 schools.

They are—in the ranks of fully-accredited districts — Bradshaw, Clarkson, Johnson, Louisville, Spencer, Thedford, Weeping Water, Winside and Stuart.

Minor-accredited schools due to receive warnings are Adams, Alvo-Eagle, Arthur, Clearwater, Diller, Hildreth, Mitchell-Sunflower, Pleasanton, Plymouth, St. Edward and Yutan.

Those districts failing to heed warnings could be reclassified into lower accreditation levels next year.

OPEN BIDS ON ROAD PROJECTS

The State Roads Department opened bids Thursday on an estimated $8.6 million worth of highway construction and improvements.

This included two major thrusts on Interstate 80 in York County

The Interstate work called for paving, bridge construction and other work on five miles of roadway between the York and Charleston interchanges.

Of the estimated $8.6 million, more than half will come from federal-aid interstate funds.

The department will announce results of the bidding Friday.

Bids Will Be Let July 8th On Road Jobs

The State Department of Roads announced Thursday it would let bids July 8 on three projects with an estimated $1.7 million price tag.

The only major work is in Thurston County. This project calls for grading, concrete paving, culverts and guard rail on 12.3 miles of U.S. 77 between Winnebago and the Rosalie junction.

Federal-aid primary funds are available for the project, the department said.

Another federal-aid primary project included in the letting is for one bridge in Lincoln County on U.S. Highway 73 south of North Platte.

The only other work calls for construction of one concrete box culvert on Highway 2 near Lakeside in Sheridan County.

More than $1 million of the estimated total cost of the three projects will come from federal funds. The balance will be financed by state construction money.

Bacher Receives Shubert Award

Andrew Bacher of Scottsbluff Thursday was awarded the new $2,500 Shubert Fellowship in playwriting presented by the University of Nebraska Foundation.

Bacher, who graduated from the University this month, will use the fellowship to do graduate work in playwriting. Last year, he was one of the six finalists in the national playwriting contest sponsored by Wagner College of New York, and he has received a number of university theatrical awards.

Bacher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bacher of Scottsbluff.

Safety Field Man 'Urgently Needed'

Max Walker, president of the Nebraska Safety Council meeting Thursday in Lincoln, said that the most pressing need of the Nebraska Council is for funds to employ a field service representative to effect council programs across the state.

Walker, who was elected for a second term as council president, indicated three areas of concern:

—a follow-up program on the high school safety program.

Education

—Face-to-face education on safety leadership at the local level.

To demonstrate that this type of program is possible, the council heard Rumon V. Juetten, executive secretary of the Minnesota Safety Council, describe the organization in his state.

Juetten pointed out that his organization operates on an annual budget of $65,000-$70,000, more than half of which comes from the legislature for safety education across the state.

The Minnesota program places considerable emphasis on the grass-roots level, and has two full-time field men organizing local safety councils. There are more than 40 such local groups in communities of 5,000 or more.

The Nebraska council operates on a yearly budget of $7,000, which comes entirely from private sources. There has never been any attempt to secure funds from the Legislature.

Of the twenty cities in Nebraska of 5,000 or more population, only Omaha has a local safety council. Fremont is currently organizing the Fremont Industrial Safety Committee.

In addition to the re-election of Walker as president, the group elected other officers and several members of the board of directors.

They include:

—Vice presidents: C. Meade Chamberlin, Omaha; Adna Dobson, Lincoln.

—Treasurer: L. B. Horn, Omaha.

—Directors for full three year terms: C. Meade Chamberlin, Omaha; W. W. Cook, Jr., Beatrice; Gilbert E. Behlen, Columbus; Edwin F. Dosek, Lincoln; E. Richard Holm, Fremont; Clarence Isaacson, Norfolk; Hal Lainson, Hastings; Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Lincoln.

Low Bid On Cable Is Submitted By Westinghouse Co.

Westinghouse was the low bidder meeting specifications Wednesday for 12½ tons of electric cable for the city light department.

The cable will be used to build a high voltage transmission line.

Two lower bids were submitted, but did not meet the specified delivery date of July 15.

Both Westinghouse and Graybar Electric Supply bid $8,815.03, and each promised July 15 delivery. Westinghouse was chosen low bidder after the flip of a coin.

There was a total of six bids on the cable, the only item up for bids.

3 Schools Recommended For Top Accreditation

The Fremont, Kearney and Ralston school systems Thursday were recommended for the highest level of quality performance recognition, double "A" accreditation.

The State Accreditation Committee wound up its annual two-day session suggesting the accreditation of eight systems be raised and one lowered.

If the State Board of Education concurs next month, Elwood in Gosper County will drop from a minor-accredited to an approved, or non-accredited, school.

Fremont, Kearney and Ralston would join 13 other districts in the top standing.

The only district recommended to make the jump from approved to a fully-accredited status is District 160 in southeastern Lancaster County.

Four approved schools are proposed for advancement as minor-accredited. They are Bushnell, Wolbach, Halsey-Dunning and Grand Island Northwest.

Warnings that accreditation criteria have not been fully met will be sent to 20 schools. schools.

Minor-accredited schools due to receive warnings are Adams, Alvo-Eagle, Arthur, Clearwater, Diller, Hildreth, Mitchell-Sunflower, Pleasanton, Plymouth, St. Edward and Yutan.

Those districts failing to heed warnings could be reclassified into lower accreditation levels next year.

OPEN BIDS ON ROAD PROJECTS

The State Roads Department opened bids Thursday on an estimated $8.6 million worth of highway construction and improvements.

This included two major thrusts on Interstate 80 in York County.

The Interstate work called for paving, bridge construction and other work on five miles of roadway between the York and Charleston interchanges.

Of the estimated $8.6 million, more than half will come from federal-aid interstate funds.

The department will announce results of the bidding Friday.

Bids Will Be Let July 8th On Road Jobs

The State Department of Roads announced Thursday it would let bids July 8 on three projects with an estimated $1.7 million price tag.

The only major work is in Thurston County. This project calls for grading, concrete paving, culverts and guard rail on 12.3 miles of U.S. 77 between Winnebago and the Rosalie junction.

Federal-aid primary funds are available for the project, the department said.

Another federal-aid primary project included in the letting is for one bridge in Lincoln County on U.S. Highway 73 south of North Platte.

The only other work calls for construction of one concrete box culvert on Highway 2 near Lakeside in Sheridan County.

More than $1 million of the estimated total cost of the three projects will come from federal funds. The balance will be financed by state construction money.

Safety Field Man 'Urgently Needed'

Max Walker, president of the Nebraska Safety Council meeting Thursday in Lincoln, said that the most pressing need of the Nebraska Council is for funds to employ a field service representative to effect council programs across the state.

Walker, who was elected for a second term as council president, indicated three areas of concern:

—a follow-up program on the high school safety program.

Education

—Face-to-face education on safety leadership at the local level.

To demonstrate that this type of program is possible, the council heard Rumon V. Juetten, executive secretary of the Minnesota Safety Council, describe the organization in his state.

Juetten pointed out that his organization operates on an annual budget of $65,000-$70,000, more than half of which comes from the legislature for safety education across the state.

The Minnesota program places considerable emphasis on the grass-roots level, and has two full-time field men organizing local safety councils. There are more than 40 such local groups in communities of 5,000 or more.

The Nebraska council operates on a yearly budget of $7,000, which comes entirely from private sources. There has never been any attempt to secure funds from the Legislature.

Of the twenty cities in Nebraska of 5,000 or more population, only Omaha has a local safety council. Fremont is currently organizing the Fremont Industrial Safety Committee.

In addition to the re-election of Walker as president, the group elected other officers and several members of the board of directors.

They include:

—Vice presidents: C. Meade Chamberlin, Omaha; Adna Dobson, Lincoln.

—Treasurer: L. B. Horn, Omaha.

—Directors for full three year terms: C. Meade Chamberlin, Omaha; W. W. Cook, Jr., Beatrice; Gilbert E. Behlen, Columbus; Edwin F. Dosek, Lincoln; E. Richard Holm, Fremont; Clarence Isaacson, Norfolk; Hal Lainson, Hastings; Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Lincoln.

Efforts To Block MUD's Well Field Plans Told

Efforts to block the plans of the Omaha Metropolitan Utilities District to establish a large water well field on the Platte River south of Omaha Thursday were carried to the State Supreme Court.

The action was taken only hours after State Water Resources Director Dan Jones had denied a motion for a rehearing of the case. Jones last week approved the application of MUD to establish the field.

Appealing Jones' decision were the Bellevue Rod and Gun Club, the Sarpy County Board of Commissioners and the Merritt Beach Co., Merritt Bros. Sand and Gravel Co and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Merritt.

When Jones approved the application, he rejected contentions of protestants that the field would cause a lowering of water levels in the Platte River and in lakes and other wells in the area. He also rejected a contention that the transporting of water from the proposed field to Omaha would result in illegal diversion of water from one watershed to another.

MUD plans to establish the 600-acre field, which would have a capacity of 60 million gallons per day, on the north bank of the Platte about seven miles south of the Omaha Stockyards.

Twenty-four landowners, Sarpy County, three businesses and the Rod and Gun Club filed protests against the MUD application. The district needed Jones' approval before it could proceed with condemnation proceedings and establishment of the well field.

One of the primary claims of the protestants had been that the taking of water from the field to Omaha would constitute water diversion which is prohibited by law.

Jones, however, ruled that the issue of water diversion was not relevant since the law prohibiting diversion is a general one, and the specific statute permitting municipalities to withdraw, transport and use ground water takes precedence.

MUD officials contended at lengthy hearings on the application that the field is needed to serve the future water needs of the expanding metropolitan Omaha area up to 1980 or 1982.

The district hopes to sink about 35 wells on the site

Brief Is Filed In 'Full Crew' Law Case

Attorneys for Rock Island Railroad argued in a brief filed with the State Supreme Court Thursday that Nebraska's "full crew" law does not apply to Diesel trains.

They contended that since the 60-year-old law was enacted before Diesel engines had been developed, the "full crew" requirement could not possibly apply to Diesel powered trains where full crews are not needed.

They thus asked Supreme Court judges to uphold the ruling of Jefferson County District Court Judge Ernest A. Hubka's important ruling last January that the law does not apply to Diesel trains.

The full crew law requires that each freight train carry a crew consisting of an engineer, fireman, conductor and two brakemen.

Judge Hubka made his decision in a case involving the operation of a Rock Island freight train last year which was pulled by a Diesel engine and manned by a crew minus a fireman.

Jefferson County Atty. Robert F. Lammers filed charges against O. R. Thurston, superintendent of Rock Island's western division, and Lammers then appealed Judge Hubka's ruling to the Supreme Court.

"Plaintiff's arguments that the 1909 full crew laws apply to Diesel powered trains are wholly without merit," the Rock Island brief said. "Firemen are unnecessary to the safe operationof Diesel locomotives in road freight service. and application of the full crew laws to railroads would involve unconstitutional discrimination" since other forms of transportation are not similarly regulated.

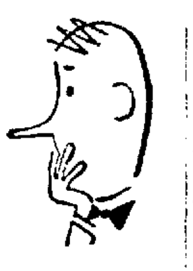
POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

The state of the nation is mighty uncertain. The stock market going oopsy-daisy. Double-talk about who shoots who first in Viet Nam.



My uncertain neck began to give me fits the other night. And so I am back in the dog collar. It is a felt affair—fastened by two safety pins. Fixes you so that wherever you want to look, you have to turn your whole body.

It is not chic. But sure entrances the kids around here.

"Can I wear your dog collar? Please, please!"

When a man wears a dog collar, that's news. (In our Shady Acres suburb anyway.)

How about horse collars?

If you have a horse collar around the scatter, you are a lucky man, sir. Horse collars are still sold—I think Montgomery Ward still sells horse collars by mail.

Well, you know how it is these days in the commuting suburbs. You must take quaint things and make lamps of them—brass spitoons or hand coffee grinders.

Somebody decided you could put mirrors in horse collars. Make frames of them.

So suddenly, there are hardly enough horse collars around for the horses.

The American Embassy in London is in Grosvenor Square. A modern building. No skyscraper, but it surely shows the English what we could have done if we'd tried.

It has the biggest gold eagle on the front you've ever seen. "That great flipping bird," as a London friend of mine put it.

Well, one of the people on this elegant square is the Duchess of Argyll—the one who knits all those socks, you know

The duchess could not sleep. Sounded like an organ going on one note outside the bedroom.

The Embassy looked around. And what do you think they found? The flag pole on which our country's flag is mounted is aluminum. Hollow. It had a hole in the base. And when the wind blew—whoooooooo.

They plugged it — $70 worth of plastic foam. The duchess sleeps again.

The duke was calling for volunteers to serve against the rebels in America.

The regiment was recruited with "a shilling and a kiss" for each man. The duke gave the lad a shilling. The duchess gave him a smackeroo.

If the duchess had come over and kissed her way through the 13 colonies, she might have ended the revolution. Apparently, she was quite a doll. For the regiment filled up immediately.

"Home projects are favored today," says the horoscope in the morning journal.

My home project is how can we make Princess Margaret feel at home.

The Princess and her husband, Viscount Snowdon, are due to visit in our town soon. And such a dither about who's home will be homiest, you never saw.

A princess, by all I ever read, is at home in a little old palace. She must have lackeys ands uch palace bric-a-brac.

You can't just turn a princess loose in a split-level with a pool in the back yard. It is pleasant. But is it really home?

Speaking of homey feeling: Things are going pretty well around my little scatter with the thatched mortgage on top.

The porch is wired with mesh — the better to keep moppets from falling off. If a stranger moppet falls off your porch, their papa can sue. Did you know that? True.

If my moppets fall off a porch, it will not be mine. I trust they will fall off a porch owned by a rich man.

The Siamese cat has taken to the homey life. We are all signing petitions to keep the bustling county from raising taxes. Or cutting freeways through the back yard. Or stringing light wires all over the place.

Home, sweet home, you might say.

Active Neutrality Asked By Soviets

Moscow (AP)—Premier Alexei Kosygin said Sweden should follow a policy of "active neutrality."

Soviet spokesmen have defined that as meaning neutrality which supports Soviet denunciations of American policy.

Motel, Hotel Unit Attacks 'Unfair' Competition

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Motel-Hotel Association meeting in Lincoln Thursday began a protest movement directed against fraternal and other "tax deductible" institutions which are serving food in direct competition with hotels and motels.

"Such groups," according to Dan Powers, association secretary from Omaha, "are competing for food business and paying no taxes."

Powers cited as an example the Madison Hotel in Norfolk, which he said was paying $7,000 in land tax payments. This he compared with $200 he said is paid by the Norfolk Elks Lodge which he said is in direct competition for food business.

"We are now looking for an appropriate test case which we can carry through the courts to get a decision on this problem," Powers said

Public Information

As part of its program against tax deductibility of such fraternal groups as the Elks and American Legion, Powers said the group would begin extensive public information campaigns in an attempt to gain public support and eventual action by the Legislature.

"We hope to awaken civic responsibility," Powers said.

"A city without a hotel is like a city without a church—whether you go or not, you want one around"

Powers said that unless the public is behind the movement, no legislator will be willing to vote against such large membership groups.

Jack M Jensen, exalted ruler of the Lincoln Elks Lodge No. 80, said that the understanding which the association has about the tax deductibility status of its lodge is "defintely incorrect."

"Insofar as the Lincoln Elks Lodge restaurant and bar for members and guests is concerned, we are being taxed, both real estate and personal property, and we have accepted this taxation," Jensen said

Re-Evaluation

State Tax Commissioner George Dworak noted that LB386, passed in the 1963 session of the Legislature, called for a complete re-evaluation of the tax status of all exempt property in the state.

Many organizations have not yet been reviewed, but his office is in process of completing the survey, he said.

The Nebraska association began its two-day meeting Wednesday with business sessions at both the Cornhusker and Lincoln Hotels.

Charles F. Dolan, general manager of the Lincoln Hotel, was elected association president succeeding Art Abbott of Omaha

Mike Papineau, Norfolk, was elected vice president and James Stephenson, Falls City, was elected to the board of directors.

Powers will continue as the association's secretary-treasurer.

Carrying out its theme on taxation, the association held a tax panel headed by Dworak, and heard from Herb F Salzman, Internal Revenue Service agent in Lincoln on federal taxation programs and their affects on the association's membership.

Tangible Property Valuations Fall, County Reports Show

An unofficial tabulation of data filed with the state tax commissioner shows the total tangible property valuation of the first 31 counties to report this year indicates a drop of $5,652,279 from last year

Twenty of the 31 counties show valuation declines.

Staff members in the commissioner's office said they don't recall any year in recent times when a comparable situation developed.

The total 1965 valuation of the 31 mostly rural counties is $1 448,826,523

For property tax purposes, these 100% values are scaled back to 35% to reach assessed valuations

The largest gain of the 17 most recently filed valuation abstracts is from Nuckolls County, a rise of $612,980, and the biggest loss is $1,550,569 from Stanton County.

Despite the valuation decline this far, the 93-county total is expected to exceed that of last year's because of gains forecast in about a dozen urban counties, mainly Douglas and Lancaster

NLRB Examiner Decides Against Unions In Dispute

A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) Thursday recommended against the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Local No. 21, AFL-CIO, and Carpenters International Union, Local No. 1055, AFL-CIO, in a dispute with John Bordogna, Inc , of Lincoln

The dispute centered around threats of walking off the construction of a dormitory on the University of Nebraska campus last fall by stewards of the two locals if independent painters, hired by Bordogna, were allowed to work.

The locals are working under the general contractor for the building, Hunter and Lundberg Construction Co. of Manhattan, Kan.

Trial examiner John P. von Rohr said that such threats, used to force Hunter and Lundberg from doing business with Bordogna, constituted unfair labor practices.

Recommendations of the trial examiner to the NLRB suggested that the locals be ordered to cease and desist from "threatening, restraining or coercing Hunter and Lundberg Construction Co., or any other person engaged in commerce or in an industry affecting commerce, where an object thereof is to force or require any such employer or any other person to cease doing business with John Bordogna, Inc."

Should the decision of the trial examiner be accepted by the board, the respondents will have ten days to effect steps in the order and notify the regional board office in Kansas City

26 Scouts Start Extensive Tour

Twenty-six Boy Scouts and two leaders from the Cornhusker Council in Lincoln left Thursday morning for the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N Mex., for 10 days' camping and hiking

The Scouts will be the guests of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo before going to the 137,000-acre ranch.

The trip, planned by Dr James Lake, a University of Nebraska law professor, will include 40 miles of hiking at Philmont, and a stop at the Cosnare Indian tribe reservation in La Junta, Colo.

Every Effort Wanted

Des Moines (AP) — The South Iowa Methodist Conference called for a negotiated settlement of the war in Viet Nam and said the United States "should make every effort for a reapproachment with" Communist China.

Two Inmates Nabbed; Each Gets 2 Years

Two Nebraska Penitentiary inmates, who were apprehended at Emerald early Thursday after scaling a fence at the prison cannery Wednesday night, were each sentenced to two additional years.

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin sentenced John Sund, 22, of Harvard, and James T. O'Brien, 37, of Omaha, each to one year on each of two counts, escape and auto theft.

Judge Ronin ordered the terms to run consecutively

The State Safety Patrol said that the pair fled Lincoln in a car stolen from the area of the State Hospital grounds. They spotted the vehicle six miles west of Lincoln and halted it at Emerald.

The two men offered no resistance when stopped by the Patrol officers.

O'Brien was serving a three-year term for no-fund checks last April 8. Sund was received at the Reformatory Feb. 13, 1961, on charge of first-degree arson for which he was sentenced to seven years.

Motel, Hotel Unit Attacks 'Unfair' Competition

By DON FERGUSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Motel-Hotel Association meeting in Lincoln Thursday began a protest movement directed against fraternal and other "tax deductible" institutions which are serving food in direct competition with hotels and motels.

"Such groups," according to Dan Powers, association secretary from Omaha, "are competing for food business and paying no taxes."

Powers cited as an example the Madison Hotel in Norfolk, which he said was paying $7,000 in land tax payments. This he compared with $200 he said is paid by the Norfolk Elks Lodge which he said is in direct competition for food business.

"We are now looking for an appropriate test case which we can carry through the courts to get a decision on this problem," Powers said.

Public Information

As part of its program against tax deductibility of such fraternal groups as the Elks and American Legion, Powers said the group would begin extensive public information campaigns in an attempt to gain public support and eventual action by the Legislature.

"We hope to awaken civic responsibility," Powers said.

"A city without a hotel is like a city without a church—whether you go or not, you want one around."

Powers said that unless the public is behind the movement, no legislator will be willing to vote against such large membership groups.

Jack M. Jensen, exalted ruler of the Lincoln Elks Lodge No. 80, said that the understanding which the association has about the tax deductibility status of its lodge is "defintely incorrect."

"Insofar as the Lincoln Elks Lodge restaurant and bar for members and guests is concerned, we are being taxed, both real estate and personal property, and we have accepted this taxation," Jensen said.

Re-Evaluation

State Tax Commissioner George Dworak noted that LB386, passed in the 1963 session of the Legislature, called for a complete re-evaluation of the tax status of all exempt property in the state.

Many organizations have not yet been reviewed, but his office is in process of completing the survey, he said.

The Nebraska association began its two-day meeting Wednesday with business sessions at both the Cornhusker and Lincoln Hotels.

Charles F. Dolan, general manager of the Lincoln Hotel, was elected association president succeeding Art Abbott of Omaha.

Mike Papineau, Norfolk, was elected vice president and James Stephenson, Falls City, was elected to the board of directors.

Powers will continue as the association's secretary-treasurer.

Carrying out its theme on taxation, the association held a tax panel headed by Dworak, and heard from Herb F. Salzman, Internal Revenue Service agent in Lincoln on federal taxation programs and their affects on the association's membership.

NLRB Examiner Decides Against Unions In Dispute

A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) Thursday recommended against the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers Local No. 21, AFL-CIO, and Carpenters International Union, Local No. 1055, AFL-CIO, in a dispute with John Bordogna, Inc., of Lincoln.

The dispute centered around threats of walking off the construction of a dormitory on the University of Nebraska campus last fall by stewards of the two locals if independent painters, hired by Bordogna, were allowed to work.

The locals are working under the general contractor for the building, Hunter and Lundberg Construction Co. of Manhattan, Kan.

Trial examiner John P. von Rohr said that such threats, used to force Hunter and Lundberg from doing business with Bordogna, constituted unfair labor practices.

Recommendations of the trial examiner to the NLRB suggested that the locals be ordered to cease and desist from "threatening, restraining or coercing Hunter and Lundberg Construction Co., or any other person engaged in commerce or in an industry affecting commerce, where an object thereof is to force or require any such employer or any other person to cease doing business with John Bordogna, Inc."

Should the decision of the trial examiner be accepted by the board, the respondents will have ten days to effect steps in the order and notify the regional board office in Kansas City.

Two Inmates Nabbed; Each Gets 2 Years

Two Nebraska Penitentiary inmates, who were apprehended at Emerald early Thursday after scaling a fence at the prison cannery Wednesday night, were each sentenced to two additional years.

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin sentenced John Sund, 22, of Harvard, and James T. O'Brien, 37, of Omaha, each to one year on each of two counts, escape and auto theft.

Judge Ronin ordered the terms to run consecutively.

The State Safety Patrol said that the pair fled Lincoln in a car stolen from the area of the State Hospital grounds. They spotted the vehicle six miles west of Lincoln and halted it at Emerald.

The two men offered no resistance when stopped by the Patrol officers.

O'Brien was serving a three-year term for no-fund checks last April 8. Sund was received at the Reformatory Feb. 13, 1961, on charge of first-degree arson for which he was sentenced to seven years.

Tangible Property Valuations Fall, County Reports Show

An unofficial tabulation of data filed with the state tax commissioner shows the total tangible property valuation of the first 31 counties to report this year indicates a drop of $5,652,279 from last year.

Twenty of the 31 counties show valuation declines.

Staff members in the commissioner's office said they don't recall any year in recent times when a comparable situation developed.

The total 1965 valuation of the 31 mostly rural counties is $1,448,826,523.

For property tax purposes, these 100% values are scaled back to 35% to reach assessed valuations.

The largest gain of the 17 most recently filed valuation abstracts is from Nuckolls County, a rise of $612,980, and the biggest loss is $1,550,569 from Stanton County.

Despite the valuation decline this far, the 93-county total is expected to exceed that of last year's because of gains forecast in about a dozen urban counties, mainly Douglas and Lancaster.

Poles Launch Rocket

Warsaw, Poland (AP)—Poland had sent up its first meteorological rocket, the Polish press agency announced. The rocket, launched from a pad near Ustka in northern Poland, weighed nearly half a ton and reached an altitude of 29 miles, the agency said.

26 Scouts Start Extensive Tour

Twenty-six Boy Scouts and two leaders from the Cornhusker Council in Lincoln left Thursday morning for the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N.Mex., for 10 days' camping and hiking.

The Scouts will be the guests of the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. before going to the 137,000-acre ranch.

The trip, planned by Dr. James Lake, a University of Nebraska law professor, will include 40 miles of hiking at Philmont, and a stop at the Cosnare Indian tribe reservation in La Junta, Colo.

Dear (Blank): I'm Having (Blank) Time In Lincoln

. . . BOYS STATERS 'WRITE'

Often the hardest part of a trip or convention is writing home.

Or perhaps it's the best part.

Either way, a lot of Nebraska parents must certainly be surprised when they receive letters from their sons at Boys State.

In fact they all receive almost the same letters.

The letter that a large majority of these boys have been sending home is short, simple, neatly typed and almost entirely mimeographed.

Fill In The Blanks

The letter, a mimeographed form which leaves appropriate blanks to be filled in and adjectives to be underlined. was made up by the Cornhusker Boys' State newspaper and distributed to the boys to be sent to "mother, girl, wife."

The letter goes like this:

"How are you at (h o m e. school, camp)? I am having a (great, lousy, mediocre) time. We had an election and I ran for——, and I (won, lost).

"Since I've been here I think of you (all the time, once in a while, never).

'I'm Feeling . . .

"I am feeling (good, terrible, lonely, deprived).

"The meals are (good, succulent, just like school). (Ugh!)

"The dance with Girls Staters was (fun!!!).

"The girls were (, , ,).

"Some of the girls reminded me of you.

"I will see you- - - -, when I arrive (Friday, Saurday, never).

Boys Staters Boost Agriculture

Boys State Gov. Randy Reeves introduced his budget of $179 million to the Boys State mock Legislature Thursday.

The Legislature cut some portions of the budget by about $100,000 and added $42,000 to the Agricultural Department's share of the budget.

Boys State Sen. Dave Landis of Lincoln explained that since Nebraska was predominantly an agricultural state, the budget committee, of which he is a member, felt the agricultural department should get as much money as possible.

The 49 senators continued to discuss a two per cent state income tax and the setting aside of $50,000 each year in state funds to promote the study of natural sciences in universities.

Landis said that the natural sciences bill would make it possible to inform more Nebraska farmers about new agricultural methods. He also said that almost every Boys Stater seemed to be for some type of a broadened tax base.

A new bill introduced into the Legislature Thursday called for a minimum speed limit of 40 miles per hour for all registered vehicles on Nebraska asphalt and paved roads.

Earlier in the day James Mallon, director of the city finance department, explained city finances to the boys. The boys also held city council meetings for the eight cities they had formed and the Supreme Court and district courts met.

Boys State will hold its last legislative session for this year at the Capitol Friday morning.

Decker Asks Court To Vacate Conviction

Gerald A. Decker, serving a life sentence for second degree murder in connection with the 1959 fatal stabbing of Mrs. Edna Zajicek, Thursday filed a motion to vacate and annul his conviction.

In his petition, filed in Lancaster District Court, Decker alleges that his judgment and sentence are void and without authority of law and that his imprisonment is a denial of his rights under the U.S. and Nebraska Constitutions.

He contends he was arrested without a warrant, denied counsel, use of telephone, pencil and paper and his eyeglasses "without which he cannot see to read or write," and was without food or water for a day and a night while being held.

Decker further alleges that he, being only 15 years of age at the time, was denied right to have counsel during interrogation and confession which he gave under fear of threats of physical abuse and that he would be electrocuted.

Decker, who pleaded guilty to the second-degree charge, contends he was not afforded a fair trial.

Mrs. Zajicek was matron of the State Home for Children at 5701 Walker, where Decker had been a resident.

House Panel Approves Defense Money

. . . 3 REPUBLICANS CALL IT INADEQUATE

Washington (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee approved Thursday a $45,188,244,000 Defense Department financing bill which three Republican committee members called inadequate

The money is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1 and is only $60.6 million less than President Johnson requested, but $2.5 billion below current year appropriations.

It is designed to support during the year a fighting machine of 2,653,000 uniformed personnel, 29,571 active aircraft, 899 active ships and 2,700 nuclear warhead weapons for the strategic forces.

Steers Clear

The committee steered clear of the controversy over the Pentagon's plans to consolidate the Army National Guard and the Army Reserve into a single command.

It recommended funds to keep the strength level of the two separate organizations at about 650,000, explaining that separate legislation would be needed to bring about a consolidation.

The $10,963,903,000 recommended for the Army would support 961,700 personnel with modern weaponry. The Navy's $13,942,200,000 includes pay for 679,500 sailors and 191,400 Marines. The Air Force share of $17,519,600,000 would provide for 820,300 uniformed personnel.

Defense Personnel

To pay all Defense Department personnel, the bill would provide $14,656,600,000. Operation and maintenance of the various forces accounted for another $12,547,144,000.

For procurement of weapons, ships, planes and other equipment the committee allotted $11,390,000,000 and for research and development it earmarked $6,594,500,000.

Three GOP members of a subcommittee that drafted the bill after lengthy hearings complained of financing plans for the fighting forces in Viet Nam The three dissenters were Reps Glenard P. Lipscomb of California. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and William E. Minshall of Ohio.

Plotter's Sentence Is Conditional

New York (AP)—Miss Michelle Duclos, 26, received a five-year conditional sentence for smuggling dynamite into this country in a plot to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell.

The tall, blue-eyed, buxom Canadian blonde, who turned state's evidence, admitted helping smuggle in from her country 30 sticks of dynamite and three blasting caps.

In imposing the provisional five-year term, Judge William B. Herlands committed Miss Duclos "to the custody of the attorney general, which commitment shall be deemed to be for the maximum sentence prescribed by law, five years, on the second count of the indictment."

Herlands set the sentence under a section of the U.S. Code for the purpose of "a study to be made of the prisoner."

U.S. May Buy British Ships

Washington (AP) — A suggestion that the U.S. Navy buy some noncombatant type ships from Britain is under consideration, it was learned Thursday.

The idea is being looked at in the Defense Department's Office of International Security Affairs, which handles foreign military aid. It is one of several proposals aimed at keeping defense industries in major allied countries in a condition of readiness for expansion in an emergency.

Military procurement has dropped off sharply in many of the larger friendly nations.

The still-tentative suggestion is certain to stir apprehension in the American shipbuilding industry and in communities where Navy shipyards are being closed down.

Those who see possible advantages in the proposal for buying Navy cargo ships from British yards believe

In long-range interest, it is better to bet the best price and best quality obtainable. Both Britain and Japan have huge shipbuilding industries. The British yards may have more experience in building the specialized cargo types used by the U.S. Navy than Japanese yards, which produce quality tanker ships.

The balance in military buying would still lie heavily in favor of the United States.

PATRICIA . . . in shorts.

Model's Short Shorts Gain Curt Acquittal

New York (AP)—A judge ruled Thursday that Patricia Anne Morgan's shorts were kind of short on the long-legged 42-25-36 model, but not short enough to violate a park department ordinance.

Patricia Ann, 26, was given a summons for wearing the shorts in Riverside Park May 8. She wore them under her skirt when she first appeared in Criminal Court Thursday, but later returned carrying them in front of her after Judge J. Howard Rossback declared, amid spectator disapproval, "I'll not have the courtroom as a modeling agency"

Patricia Ann showed the judge how the shorts would fit if she wore them, and the judge declared· "The defendant is now acquitted with the admonition to wear longer apparel in the future."

Russia Announces Coexistence Plan

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union unveiled Thursday a peaceful coexistence program it intends to push at next month's World Peace Congress in Helsinki.

Virtually every point was deemed certain to provoke clamorous objections from the Chinese Communists.

The Soviet debating position for the Helsinki meeting was set forth at a preparatory meeting in Moscow by Nikolai Tikhonov, chairman of the Soviet peace committee.

Tikhonov made it clear that the Soviets would press for staff condemnations of U.S action in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and the Congo. The Chinese are expected to demand that these resolutions be as tough as possible.

Bitter Squabble

But the representatives of the two major Communist powers are expected to squabble bitterly over the rest of the Soviet program.

Tikhonov covered his flanks against Chinese attack by emphasizing that the United States was misinterpreting [illegible]aceful coexistence as ap[illegible]ble only to U.S.-Soviet re[illegible]ns.

[illegible]e also repeated the formula worked out by former Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1960—that wars of national liberation were inevitable, even in a state of peaceful coexistence

There was some surprise that, despite the tensions of the Viet Nam crisis, the Soviet position formulated in a period of less strained East-West relations remained virtually intact.

Tikhonov's carefully phrased summary of the Soviet position included these points of Moscow-Peking friction

Peaceful coexistence—"this is a universal principle It should be applied to relations among all states" The Chinese insist that there can be no peaceful coexistence with "imperialists."

Negotiations of international disputes—Peking has accused the Russians of seeking to negotiate when they should be fighting or helping others to fight.

Avoidance of nuclear war—The Russians say nuclear war "would bring unprecedented sacrifices and destruction" The Chinese object, fearing this view might put a damper on revolutionary militancy

Strengthening the United Nations—The Chinese have lately shown less interest in joining the United Nations.

Australia Troops Kills Indonesians

Singapore (AP) — Australian troops guarding Malaysia's Borneo border with Indonesia killed at least 17 Indonesians Tuesday in their first clash with Indonesian regulars, a British military spokesman said Thursday.

An Indonesian force of more than 100 men walked into an Australian ambush, the spokesman said

"At least 17 were dropped in their tracks while many others were wounded," he said. "The remainder of the Indonesian suddenly lost interest and withdrew in disorder."

Strike Ties Up Military Cargo Ships

New York (AP)—Five military cargo vessels were tied up Thursday in a widening maritime strike of above and below-deck ships officers

However, none of their 10,000 tons of supplies were destined for American troops in Viet Nam or the Dominican Republic.

Later Thursday, one of the five ships, the Prudential Steamship Co.'s Attleboro Victory, was cleared to sail by the striking AFL-CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association Her 5,100 tons of military cargo was ticketed for Greece and Turkey.

The Attleboro Victory sailed for Europe about 5 p.m. CST.

Initial failure of the engineers to work the ships broke a long-standing custom of giving priority to military shipments even during a strike The only explanation came from the head of the striking engineers, Jesse M. Calhoon, who said:

LYNDA IS HONORARY APACHE

Cibecue, Ariz (AP)—For a few brief moments Thursday night Apache Indians relived their fabled past as 1,500 tribesmen solemnly watched President Johnson's 21-year-old daughter, Lynda Bird, inducted as an honorary member.

Presented with an Indian basket—called a burden basket—among other gifts, Lynda Bird said, "I just hope all my burdens are small enough to fit in this."

Lester Oliver, chairman of the White Mountain Apache Tribe, read a resolution signed by the tribal council in an ancient but brief rite making her an honorary member.

Few So Honored

Less than six non-Indians have been accorded the honor in the past 40 years by the Apaches

Lynda Bird came to Cibecue from nearby Grasshopper where she is digging in the Indian past as a guest student at the University of Arizona archeological summer field school.

From the surrounding hills, Indians poured into Cibecue by foot, horseback, wagons and cars for the night of feasting, dancing and induction ceremonial.

Wonderful Poverty War

"She's brave to come out in the sticks," said Oliver. "But the ceremony is also to show our appreciation to the President himself for the wonderful antipoverty program. More than 400 tribal boys and girls are working in the neighborhood youth program."

The ancient induction ritual featured colorfully dressed Indian dancers who blessed the recipient to insure a happy home, an abundance of food and other benefits.

Gifts for the President's daughter included a beaded necklace and a hand-made, violet-blue Apache dress with a billy skirt and ample blouse.

It will always be in style because the tribe never changes it.

But before the dances and ceremonials came the feast. It was a barbecue of such proportions that a full week was spent preparing for it.

Mississippian, Texan Named To 5th Circuit Court

From Press Reports

President Johnson Thursday nominated a former governor of Mississippi and a Texas federal judge to fill two long-vacant posts on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court, which sits in New Orleans, La., handles a heavy load of civil rights suits.

James P. Coleman, the Mississippian, was governor from 1956 to 1960.

Barry Launches Grassroots Group To Strengthen GOP

Washington (UPI) — Barry M. Goldwater, welcoming all but Communists and the Ku Klux Klan, Thursday launched a grassroots conservative educational group which he hopes will strengthen the Republican Party.

The defeated 1964 GOP presidential nominee told a news conference that the Free Society Association, of which he will be honorary chairman, will not become a third party. But he said it will welcome members of the right-wing John Birch Society — "everyone except the Communists" —in its effort to better the conservative image.

Did that include the Ku Klux Klan?

"We don't want members of the Ku Klux Klan. And I don't think the Klan will join us "

The Arizona senator declined to answer any questions not related to formation of the new political research group, which Denison Kitchel, his former campaign manager, will head as president.

Goldwater emphasized that the organization avoided including "political types" in its founding group. A reporter asked if Goldwater's announcement that he will run again for the Senate in 1968 did not make him one of those

"When I'm not a political type I'll be dead," the former Arizona senator replied.

Goldwater said the FSA's membership, to his knowledge, did not yet include a Negro but he added: "We're hoping to get one."

New Approach To Annexation Discussed

A new possibility concerning the annexation of land in the vicinity of 70th and Normal has been discussed during the week, it was reported Thursday

On Monday the City Council amended an ordinance originally calling for annexing 140 acres of land, to provide for the annexation of the north 80 acres of the tract, basically bounded by 62nd, 70th South St. and on the south by the center line of Normal Blvd.

Area residents have strongly opposed the ordinance, which is to be voted on in amended form at the next meeting, on the basis that private utilities have already been installed at some expense and special assessments for city utilities would be an economic hardship.

In Budget

Construction of a water line down South St and a sewer line intersecting the northern 80 acres has been included in the capital improvements budget request for the next fiscal year

Also planned is the installation of a water line down 70th.

According to one source, several council members have discussed the possibility of asking that the amendment be scrapped and the original ordinance be adopted, with the provision that the city would put in the 70th St line but would not extend lateral utilities into the area, for a certain period of time, unless residents requested service.

Apparently the decision as to the length of time would be made by the council in order to allow property owners to realize something out of their investment in private water supplies and sewage disposal systems.

Under the new proposal, the entire area would then be part of the city and would enjoy city fire protection. Water for fire protection would come from hydrants located along the 70th St. truck line.

Milkman Seeks $26,273 Damages

Waldo G. Pierson filed a $26,273.85 damage suit in Lancaster District Court Thursday against Thomas J. Belmont in connection with a March 6, 1965, accident.

Pierson, driving a milk delivery truck, alleges he had parked his truck near 3310 Touzalin while making a delivery and when he returned and was in front of the truck, a car driven by Belmont hit the truck from the rear.

Pierson contends that the impact propelled the milk truck against him resulting in multiple damages.

"We don't want members of the Ku Klux Klan. And I don't think the Klan will join us."

The Arizona senator declined to answer any questions not related to formation of the new political research group, which Denison Kitchel, his former campaign manager, will head as president.

Goldwater emphasized that the organization avoided including "political types" in its founding group. A reporter asked if Goldwater's announcement that he will run again for the Senate in 1968 did not make him one of those.

"When I'm not a political type I'll be dead," the former Arizona senator replied.

Goldwater said the FSA's membership, to his knowledge, did not yet include a Negro but he added: "We're hoping to get one."

LYNDA IS HONORARY APACHE

Cibecue, Ariz. (AP)—For a few brief moments Thursday night Apache Indians relived their fabled past as 1,500 tribesmen solemnly watched President Johnson's 21-year-old daughter, Lynda Bird, inducted as an honorary member.

Presented with an Indian basket—called a burden basket—among other gifts, Lynda Bird said, "I just hope all my burdens are small enough to fit in this."

Lester Oliver, chairman of the White Mountain Apache Tribe, read a resolution signed by the tribal council in an ancient but brief rite making her an honorary member.

Few So Honored

Less than six non-Indians have been accorded the honor in the past 40 years by the Apaches.

Lynda Bird came to Cibecue from nearby Grasshopper where she is digging in the Indian past as a guest student at the University of Arizona archeological summer field school.

From the surrounding hills, Indians poured into Cibecue by foot, horseback, wagons and cars for the night of feasting, dancing and induction ceremonial.

Wonderful Poverty War

"She's brave to come out in the sticks," said Oliver. "But the ceremony is also to show our appreciation to the President himself for the wonderful antipoverty program. More than 400 tribal boys and girls are working in the neighborhood youth program."

The ancient induction ritual featured colorfully dressed Indian dancers who blessed the recipient to insure a happy home, an abundance of food and other benefits.

Gifts for the President's daughter included a beaded necklace and a hand-made, violet-blue Apache dress with a billy skirt and ample blouse.

It will always be in style because the tribe never changes it.

But before the dances and ceremonials came the feast. It was a barbecue of such proportions that a full week was spent preparing for it.

Mississippian, Texan Named To 5th Circuit Court

From Press Reports

President Johnson Thursday nominated a former governor of Mississippi and a Texas federal judge to fill two long-vacant posts on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court, which sits in New Orleans, La., handles a heavy load of civil rights suits.

James P. Coleman, the Mississippian, was governor from 1956 to 1960.

U.S. Dist. Judge Homer Thornberry, 55, of Austin, Tex., succeeded Johnson as Texas' 10th District congressman in 1948 when Johnson was elected to the Senate.

New Approach To Annexation Discussed

A new possibility concerning the annexation of land in the vicinity of 70th and Normal has been discussed during the week, it was reported Thursday.

On Monday the City Council amended an ordinance originally calling for annexing 140 acres of land, to provide for the annexation of the north 80 acres of the tract, basically bounded by 62nd, 70th South St. and on the south by the center line of Normal Blvd.

Area residents have strongly opposed the ordinance, which is to be voted on in amended form at the next meeting, on the basis that private utilities have already been installed at some expense and special assessments for city utilities would be an economic hardship.

In Budget

Construction of a water line down South St. and a sewer line intersecting the northern 80 acres has been included in the capital improvements budget request for the next fiscal year.

Also planned is the installation of a water line down 70th.

According to one source, several council members have discussed the possibility of asking that the amendment be scrapped and the original ordinance be adopted, with the provision that the city would put in the 70th St. line but would not extend lateral utilities into the area, for a certain period of time, unless residents requested service.

Apparently the decision as to the length of time would be made by the council, in order to allow property owners to realize something out of their investment in private water supplies and sewage disposal systems.

Under the new proposal, the entire area would then be part of the city and would enjoy city fire protection. Water for fire protection would come from hydrants located along the 70th St. truck line.

Milkman Seeks $26,273 Damages

Waldo G. Pierson filed a $26,273.85 damage suit in Lancaster District Court Thursday against Thomas J. Belmont in connection with a March 6, 1965, accident.

Pierson, driving a milk delivery truck, alleges he had parked his truck near 3310 Touzalin while making a delivery and when he returned and was in front of the truck, a car driven by Belmont hit the truck from the rear.

Pierson contends that the impact propelled the milk truck against him resulting in multiple damages.

Private Attorneys Will Be Asked Before Committee On Redistricting

The Legislature's Committee on Committees, searching for a solution to the reapportionment dilemma, Thursday agreed to invite private attorneys to appear before the committee to answer questions and possibly offer advice

Committee Chairman Elvin Adamson of Valentine said August Ross, attorney for the State AFL-CIO which successfully pushed the court action that resulted in the outlawing of the Legislature's initial 1965 reapportionment effort, may be invited to testify.

The unanimous decision to seek additional information from non-government sources followed a 30-minute executive session with Atty. Gen Clarence A H. Meyer and Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard Williams.

In answer to a newsman's question after the meeting, Adamson said he hoped the committee's decision to meet with other attorneys would not be construed as a sign the committee is dissatisfied with the attorney general's advice Adamson said the committee is simply attempting to study all possibilities and avail ourselves of all possible legal opinions."

Good Chance

Adamson said the attorney general Thursday reiterated his opinion expressed in a speech to the Legislature in May that the decision of the federal court panel throwing out the first reapportionment bill, 'could be appealed with a good chance of success"

The Legislature already has rejected a proposal to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court the recent federal panel decision which outlawed the 50-member reapportionment plan. The Committee on Committees was assigned the task of recommending a new plan.

Adamson said the attorney general assured the committee he would attempt to defend in court any action the Legislature should take on the reapportionment issue.

Adamson said Meyer also indicated he saw no problems involved in retaining staggered terms of legislators even though reapportioning every 10 years would throw some four-year lawmakers into parts of districts to which they were not elected. "That eliminates one of our dilemmas," said Adamson

Seventh Plan

The committee also received a seventh suggested reapportionment plan, submitted by Chappell Sen. Ramey Whitney, which respects county lines The plan contains 46 districts with a population variance of 14 2%

The attorney general has held that the state constitution prohibits crossing county lines, but the federal court panel said that a 49 or 50 member Legislature cannot be created without crossing county lines if the "one-man, one-vote" edict is to be followed.

Adamson, who said he is pessimistic the committee can agree on a reapportionment plan that would have the strength to receive the approval of a majority of the entire body, said that the committee probably will meet next week, possibly in an extra-ordinary evening session, to receive the testimony of invited attorneys

Pedestral arrangements of yellow gladioli decorated the chancel of the Waverly Methodist Church on Thursday evening, June 17, for the candlelight wedding of Miss Marilyn Elaine Whyman of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collins Whyman, and Robert A. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams, all of Waverly. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Dwight Ganzel, and Mrs. Robert Hollingsworth, organist, played the wedding music. Miss Janet Schlaphoff was the vocal soloist.

Wearing an Empire frock in pastel yellow and carrying an arrangement of yellow roses was Miss Linda McGill of Waverly, the maid of honor and bride's only attendant.

Steven Williams of Waverly served as best man, and seating the guests were Randy Johnson and Lydell Otley, also of Waverly.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose white silk taffeta. The sculptured bodice, which was designed with long sleeves and a bateau neckline, was mantled with peau d'ange lace, which was repeated in a deep border on the sheath skirt. The gown was completed by a wide, detachable train of the silk extending to cotillion length, and a tiny, flowered pillbox cap held her veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of pale yellow roses, stephanotis and varigated ivy.

Mr. and Mrs Williams will make their home in Lincoln at 2904 No. 52nd. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford.

BRIDE
at candlelight service

Pedestral arrangements of yellow gladioli decorated the chancel of the Waverly Methodist Church on Thursday evening, June 17, for the candlelight wedding of Miss Marilyn Elaine Whyman of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collins Whyman, and Robert A. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams, all of Waverly. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Dwight Ganzel, and Mrs. Robert Hollingsworth, organist, played the wedding music. Miss Janet Schlaphoff was the vocal soloist.

Wearing an Empire frock in pastel yellow and carrying an arrangement of yellow roses was Miss Linda McGill of Waverly, the maid of honor and bride's only attendant.

Steven Williams of Waverly served as best man, and seating the guests were Randy Johnson and Lydell Otley, also of Waverly.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose white silk taffeta. The sculptured bodice, which was designed with long sleeves and a bateau neckline, was mantled with peau d'ange lace, which was repeated in a deep border on the sheath skirt. The gown was completed by a wide, detachable train of the silk extending to cotillion length, and a tiny, flowered pillbox cap held her veil of iillusion. She carried a cascade of pale yellow roses, stephanotis and varigated ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Lincoln at 2904 No. 52nd. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford.

GUEST is a century young

When the members of Deborah Avery Chapter, DAR, honored past regents of the group at their Charter Day luncheon, Thursday, a very special guest was chapter member Mrs. J. F. Croft.

Mrs. Croft (seated, center, between her twin daughters, Miss Irma Jean Croft, left, and Mrs. Fred Moeller, right), will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary on July 9.

Standing (from the left) are Mrs. H. C. Filley and Mrs. Joel E. McLafferty, past regents; Miss Elizabeth Wright, 50-year member of DAR; and Mrs. J. Carl Evans, Omaha, state regent.

A 30-year member of Deborah Avery Chapter, of which both Miss Croft and Mrs. Moeller have served as regents, Mrs. Croft has made many trips to New York State and Connecticut following "ancestor clues."

Born in Berea, Ohio, Mrs. Croft spent her girlhood in Belleville, Mich., and received a degree in music from Adrian College, Adrian, Mich.

In between her travels — including two trips to Alaska, at age 80 and again at 94 —Mrs. Croft likes to crochet and hook rugs, and her daughters report she is an excellent bridge player.

TALK of the town

Everything is in full swing at the Swingfest and we might add that the activity at the LCC isn't conducive to a brimming calendar of evenings elsewhere around town.

But we do have guests to mention this morning, and we'll be about the business of telling who came—and from where.

* * *

The Swingfest may have been a bit of an added inducement to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Battey and their two sons, Chuck and David in the decision to make the trip from Northbrook, Ill., at this time. They arrived last Sunday.

The fact remains, however, that the visitors plan to spend 10 days here as the guests of Mr. Battey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton Battey.

* * *

Yesterday was a popular day for the welcome mats—Arriving on Thursday morning were Mrs. Nancy Isaacs and her two children, Bradley and Cissey, who came from Houston, Tex., for a visit with Mrs. Isaacs' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball.

Mrs. Isaacs, by the way, is on her way to London, England, where she will attend summer classes in her chosen field, dermatology, at the University of London, and Cambridge University. Mrs. Isaacs, in case you didn't know, is associated with the University of Texas Medical Center at Houston.

We hear that Bradley and Cissy will spend the summer with their maternal grandparents.

* * *

And on Thursday afternoon Maj. and Mrs. John Ianni arrived to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon. Maj. and Mrs. Ianni are not strangers in Lincoln since they resided here during Maj. Ianni's tour of duty at the Lincoln Air Force Base. The Air Force officer's new assignment is at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ammon complimented their guests with a dinner at their home on Thursday evening.

* * *

A late summer bride-elect, Miss Beth Ann Lommason, will be honored on Saturday when Mrs. Henry M. Cox entertains at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower at Hotel Lincoln.

Miss Lommason's marriage to Gerald Hodges will take place in mid-August.

We Hear That

West coast visitors who arrived in Lincoln Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Hultberg and their children, Kathy, Michael, Chuck and Cheryl, of Upland, Calif., who will spend several weeks as the guests of Mrs. Hultberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Sell. Mrs. Hultberg, who will be remembered as the former Gloria Rose Sell, plans to attend the 10th anniversary reunion of her class at the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha. Also an NU alumnus, Mr. Hultberg and his family plan to visit his mother, Mrs. Clifford Hultberg in Blair, before returning to the west coast.

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Spades. North leads the queen of hearts, which you ruff. When you then play the ace of spades, North discards a low heart. How would you now play the hand?

♠AKQ1073	N	♠54
♥—	W E	♥K962

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Five Clubs. The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1♣	1♠	2♣
2♠	4♣	Pass	5♣

North leads the queen of spades on which South plays the nine. How would you play the hand?

♠—	N	♠853
♥A75	W E	♥10862
♦AJ62	S	♦Q5
♣QJ10963		♣AK84

1. The key play comes at this point when you must enter dummy with a club, finesse the ten of spades, cash the K-Q, and then run the clubs until South ruffs with his last trump. That is the only trick you lose.

If you play the hand in this way, you are certain of making the slam regardless of how the opponents' cards are divided.

The trap to avoid is to enter dummy at trick three with a diamond, not a club. It may appear safer to lead a diamond instead of a club, but, actually, the opposite is true. Thus, if South had some such hand as: you would lose the slam by entering dummy with a diamond, but not if you entered dummy with a club.

Even if South ruffed the first club lead, you would make the contract by later playing a diamond to the king and taking the marked trump finesse.

2. Ruff the spade and draw trumps. Then lead a low diamond toward the queen. If North has the king of diamonds and takes it, you later discard two of dummy's hearts on the A-J of diamonds and wind up losing a diamond and a heart. If North has the king and does not take it, all you do is lose two heart tricks.

It is true that if South has the king this line of play will defeat you, whereas taking a diamond finesse would have made the contract. However, both the bidding and the opening lead indicate that North is far more likely to have the king of diamonds.

The queen of spades lead indicates that North overcalled with a suit headed by the Q-J. Whatever side strength he has therefore figures to include the king of diamonds.

tell them to fight at home
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have neighbors who are constantly getting into fights. You can hear them a block away. The trouble is that they happen to be friends of ours. Every time they have a fight (which is about three times a week) the wife comes over here to cry on my wife's shoulder. It's usually in the middle of our dinner. Then the husband comes over here and tries to get his wife to go home with him. Then they start up all over again. Abby, we have three small children and you can imagine what it looks like to them. Please tell us how to put a stop to all this.

J. AND R.

DEAR J. AND R.: If your wife wants to be a human wailing wall for her neighbor, tell her to do it during the daytime — and preferably at the neighbor's house. Furthermore, if you permit your home to be used as a domestic battleground, you are foolish. Tell your neighbors that you enjoy their company when they're compatible, but please to bury the hatchet at home because they are giving your children a rather ugly perspective of married life.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office. Recently a young man bought a toupee. It made him look years younger and very attractive. Yet the other men in the office kidded him about it until he doesn't wear it any more. What do you think of toupees for men, Abby?

JEKYLL ISLAND, GA.

DEAR J. I., GA.: I think a good toupee — properly fitted — can do wonders for a man's morale. Some men are bald and couldn't care less. But if a man feels that he NEEDS hair, I say, buy a toupee and turn a deaf ear to all the kidding. (And don't listen to any hair-raising stories.)

DEAR ABBY: Why was that reader "flabbergasted" to learn that maternity stretch pants are on the market? Just because a woman is in maternity clothes doesn't mean she can't wear the newest fashions and fabrics.

Josephine Lowman

Q. My daughter is 14½ years old, is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. I know she is overweight and she wants to lose. How is the best way for a girl her age to lose?

A. Your daughter is a lot overweight. She should weigh only about 110 pounds. Since she is quite young and has so many pounds to lose I think you should obtain the guidance of your family physician. This will also provide an added incentive for your child. She is developing rapidly at her age and requires a well-balanced diet and sufficient amounts of it. However she can cut down on sweets and pastries, fried foods, butter and bread, cream and gravies and sauces. In between snacks should be items which build health and are low in calories, such as fruit or juices or skim milk.

If you can interest her in sports it will help. Perhaps she will swim regularly this summer.

Q. My mother, a woman of 40, is very disturbed about the deep lines appearing on her face, particularly around her mouth. If there anything that can be done to help this situation? Do you recommend the use of a night cream?

A. Your mother is young to have such deep lines. This makes me wonder if she is extremely thin. Night cream is definitely suggested. Also she should massage ALONG the lines, after applying the cream, using a rotary motion with her finger. Any exaggerated facial expression which emphasized this defect should be eliminated. Facial exercises may be of help. Ask your mother to try this one.

Maybe takes the plunge and buys a racing sloop.
Or, tells the boss he won't move to Cut Bank, Montana.
But, is it what Sportsman does to him, or to you? Who cares?
Have him splash on some Sportsman and watch the fireworks.

SPORT SIGNALS

By Hal Brown

Sports Editor, The Star

Frustration At Its Peak

The Bellerive Country Club course in St. Louis is being branded as the toughest ever for the U.S. Open, but it is unlikely that this year's site will prove as frustrating for the 150 golfers as Cherry Hills in Denver did for Ray Ainsley in 1938.

Ainsley set the record for most strokes on one hole in the Open when he took 19 swings before getting the ball in the hole on the par-4 16th at Cherry Hills.

Ainsley's feat erased the record held by Willie Chisholm who used 18 on the 185-yard eighth hole in the 1919 Open at Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton, Mass.

Long And Short Of It

In modern times, the answer is the St. Louis Country Club, site of the 1947 Open, which measured 6,532. The all-time short course measured only 4,423 when the 1896 Open was played at Shinnecock Hills Golf Club in Southampton, N.Y.

While golfers today are talking about whether par will win at St. Louis' Bellerive Course, the course has to take a back seat to the Myopia Hunt Club in South Hamilton, Mass., for high scores.

The Myopia course has yielded no score under 314 in four Opens. Fred Herd won there with 328 in 1898. Willie Anderson in 1901 with 331 and again in 1905 with 314, and Fred McLeod in 1908 with 322.

117-Stroke Difference

Most golf nuts can tell you that Ben Hogan's 276 that won the 1948 Open is the lowest 72-hole score ever recorded. But how about the highest score?

Professional John Harrison holds that distinction, 117 strokes behind Hogan with a 393 in 1900.

The youngest Open winner was Horace Rawlins, who was only 19 when he won 70 years ago.

Comeback Champions

Fleck trailed the leader by nine strokes after the first round and came back to win in 1955. Palmer was eight back after 36 in 1960 and still won, duplicating a feat pulled by Dutra in 1934.

Palmer's 1960 surge also heads the list of comebacks with 18 holes to play. The charging Arnie trailed by seven with 18 to go and still won.

All Pros Since 1933

—PROPOSED ENTRY—

Sam Baugh Signs As Tulsa Mentor

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—Sponsors of a proposed Tulsa entry in the professional Continental Football League said, today that Sammy Baugh, former Washington Redskins quarterback has signed a five-year contract to coach the team.

Bill Shortte, a Tulsa insurance man acting as spokesman for the Tulsa Sports Association, said Baugh will receive $50,000 a year as the Tulsa head coach. Baugh will have direct supervision of all coaching responsibilities and personnel functions.

Baugh said he would not be connected officially with the Tulsa team, to be known as the Oklahoma Wildcatters, until his contract as an assistant coach with the Houston Oilers expires Jan. 1, 1966.

"I will not leave the Houston team until after this coming football season is over," Baugh said.

The Tulsa team expects approval of a franchise application in the 10-team Continental League within the next 30 days, Shortte said. This would allow Tulsa's admission at the start of the 1966 season.

Shortte said an agreement has been reached with Tulsa University to permit the professional team to play in the university's Skelly Stadium, which is being expanded to seat 40,000 persons.

Holmes Park Slates Caddy Clinic Today

Young said the clinic was open to any youngster who is interested in being a caddy. The clinic is free.

. . . Nebraska's Astleford Shoots First-Round 75

St. Louis (AP)—Kel Nagle, a crusty, 44-year-old Australian, slammed into the lead with a two-under-par 68 Thursday and the roof fell in on Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Ken Venturi in the opening round of the National Open Golf Championship.

Palmer, the harassed one-time king of the pros, did little better. Scrambling over the course and showing none of his old charging spirit he limped home with a 76.

All three will have to struggle to survive the traditional half-way cut when the field will be reduced Friday from 150 to the low 50 and ties.

Two other prime favorites stayed alive. Sam Snead, making his 25th bid at the age of 53, shot a 75. British Open Champion Tony Lema had a 72.

Rifle-like iron play gave Nagle a cluster of birdies on the incoming nine for a 35-33—68 and a one-stroke edge over amateur Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., and Mason Rudolph, the bespectacled tour regular from Clarksville, Tenn., only other players under par at 69.

The Australian, at 44 years and six months, could become the oldest man ever to win the Open and the first foreigner to do so since big, mustachioed Ted Ray did it in 1920. Ray was 43 years, four months at the time.

The last amateur to take the title was Johnny Goodman, who won at Glenview, Ill., in 1933.

Gary Player of South Africa, who has captured every major title except this one, became a stern foreign threat when he posted an almost flawless 70 and tied at that spot with string-bean Al Geiberger of Santee, Calif.; Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and little-known Lou Graham of Nashville, Tenn.

It was a day of complete frustration for most of the 150-man select field, butting heads with Bellerive's exasperating 7,191 yards, the big, rolling greens and gusty northeasterly winds.

Four well-known players—former PGA champion Jim Ferrier, Bert Weaver, Terry Dill and amateur Billy Joe Patton—withdrew. Ferrier finished with an 82 and then complained of a bad back.

Weaver, with an 8 at the par 4 11th, also said he had a muscle pull in the side. Dill, 10 over par, quit at the 15th because of an upset stomach. Patton, the Walker Cupper, also had an alibi: "Just bad golf," he said.

One pro, Dick Demane of Roslyn, N.Y., shot a 93 and said, "It was a nightmare. I'm going out and get loaded." Former Open champion Ed Furgol used 39 putts in shooting an 80. Mike Souchak shot 79 and grumbled: "I'd have had a 90 if I hadn't been putting like a demon."

Venturi, stricken with a circulatory ailment in his right hand a few months after his dramatic victory in Washington, had no feeling in his hand.

"I couldn't even grip my club," he said, "but I had to give it a try."

The tournament leader, Nagle, is a bull-shouldered old campaigner from Sydney who beat Palmer out of the centenary British Open Championship at St. Andrews in 1960. He won the Canadian Open last year, the Australian Open before that.

From a distance, he can be mistaken for Snead, with his cocoanut straw hat, his rugged appearance and his smooth swing. But he's a popcorn hitter compared with the long-knocking slammer, and he admits it.

"I manage to get my wages," the Aussie said, with a grin. "But the tournament's going to get harder." He has won $14,000 officially on the tour this year.

He needed no powerful punch to tame Bellerive Thursday. He laced his approaches so straight at the pin that he had putts of only three, eight and two feet for birdies at the 13th, 14th and 16th.

He rolled in a 15-foot putt for a birdie at the ninth and canned a snake at the 10th. "It was 45 feet at least and that's conservative," he said. It was nearer 50.

Beman hit 10 wood shots from the fairway in a steady round that produced only two bogeys. He caught a bunker at the fifth and three-putted the 13th. But he birdied the third from 12 feet, the 15th from 15 feet and the 606-yard 17th from two feet after a magnificent wedge shot.

Rudolph finished birdie-birdie. He almost canned a chip for an eagle on the 17th, missing by six inches, and on the 18th sent his approach to within six feet and sank.

Geiberger came to the 17th, needing only par on the final two holes to tie for the lead, then took a double bogey 7 at the 17th, where he drove into a clump of trees.

"A spectator came up to me and said, 'You're tied with Nagle for the lead.'" Geiberger said later. "I told him, 'Yeah, but Nagle has finished.' He said, 'You still got to play 17.' I didn't know what he meant until I got there."

Nicklaus said after his poor round that he developed a hitch in his swing.

"I found myself laying the club head off and closing the face in meeting the ball," he said. "I noticed it after the Masters and have been trying to correct it.

He said he missed his drives on the fourth, 12th, 15th, 17th and 18th holes. A bad drive into the trees gave him a double bogey at the 15th. He also double bogied the first, hitting his second over the green, chipping too strong and three-putting.

"I'm not discouraged," Jack said. "I think I can shoot this course in 65 and 66. It would put me back in the game."

Nebraska amateur champion Bob Astleford, making his second straight appearance in the Open, gained a tie for 39th place after Thursday's first round with a 38-37—75.

Three former champions are among the 75 teams who will vie for the 12th annual Lincoln Country Club Swingfest crown today and Saturday.

The most recent returning winners are Lincoln Country Club member Bill Murrell and guest Dick Herman of Omaha, who teamed to win in 1963 with a best-ball handicap score of 128 over the 36-hole route.

Other returning champions are Glenn Yaussi of the Lincoln Country Club and guest H. E. Swedeburg of Woodbine, Iowa, and LCC's Bob Mowbray with guest Max Griffith of Kansas City, Mo.

Yaussi and Swedeburg won in 1962 with a 124 while Mowbray and Griffith tied for the 1959 title with Lyle Holland and Frank Bender at 124. Holland is playing this year with Denver's Don Carney as his guest.

The 75 teams in this year's field will be shooting for the best-ball handicap record of 115 established in the 1954 inaugural by Lee Chapin of the Lincoln Country Club and partner Rod Smith of South Sioux City.

Their 115 is the only time the Swingfest has been won by a score under 120. The next best winning score is a 121 turned in by LCC's Wally DeBrown teaming with guest Jack Scott in 1956.

Shriners Allow More Defenses

Omaha (AP)—The defense will be allowed more freedom than in the past when the Nebraska High School North and South squads meet in the annual Shrine Hospital Benefit game at Lincoln Aug. 21.

It was announced Thursday that the defense will be permitted to use any type of defense if the offensive team splits two players. Previously, the defense was limited to a five or six-man front regardless of the type of offense used.

Art Bauer of Lincoln Northeast, the South head coach, and George Redding of North Platte, the North boss, are both advocates of wide open football.

Frustration At Its Peak

The Bellerive Country Club course in St. Louis is being branded as the toughest ever for the U.S. Open, but it is unlikely that this year's site will prove as frustrating for the 150 golfers as Cherry Hills in Denver did for Ray Ainsley in 1938.

Ainsley set the record for most strokes on one hole in the Open when he took 19 swings before getting the ball in the hole on the par-4 16th at Cherry Hills.

Ainsley's feat erased the record held by Willie Chisholm who used 18 on the 185-yard eighth hole in the 1919 Open at Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton, Mass.

Long And Short Of It

Try this one on your friends at the bar. Bellerive is the longest course ever to host the Open, but what is the shortest?

In modern times, the answer is the St. Louis Country Club, site of the 1947 Open, which measured 6,532. The all-time short course measured only 4,423 when the 1896 Open was played at Shinnecock Hills Golf Club in Southampton, N.Y.

While golfers today are talking about whether par will win at St. Louis' Bellerive Course, the course has to take a back seat to the Myopia Hunt Club in South Hamilton, Mass., for high scores.

The Myopia course has yielded no score under 314 in four Opens. Fred Herd won there with 328 in 1898. Willie Anderson in 1901 with 331 and again in 1905 with 314, and Fred McLeod in 1908 with 322.

117-Stroke Difference

Most golf nuts can tell you that Ben Hogan's 276 that won the 1948 Open is the lowest 72-hole score ever recorded. But how about the highest score?

Professional John Harrison holds that distinction, 117 strokes behind Hogan with a 393 in 1900.

No one broke 70 in the Open until 1909 when David Hunter of Manchester, Mass., came in with 68 in the first round, then faded to finish 30th with 313.

The youngest Open winner was Horace Rawlins, who was only 19 when he won 70 years ago.

Comeback Champions

Fleck trailed the leader by nine strokes after the first round and came back to win in 1955. Palmer was eight back after 36 in 1960 and still won, duplicating a feat pulled by Dutra in 1934.

Palmer's 1960 surge also heads the list of comebacks with 18 holes to play. The charging Arnie trailed by seven with 18 to go and still won.

All Pros Since 1933

The Open championship has been strictly a pro affair since 1933 when Omaha's Johnny Goodman was the last amateur to win.

Not a single amateur completed the tournament in 1963 while the most amateurs to finish 72 holes was in 1903 when 12 finished.

Jack Nicklaus holds the record for an amateur with his 282 in 1960. He shot a 284 as an amateur the following year to tie with Don Cherry for the second lowest score by an amateur.

St. Louis (AP)—Kel Nagle, a crusty, 44-year-old Australian, slammed into the lead with a two-under-par 68 Thursday and the roof fell in on Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Ken Venturi in the opening round of the National Open Golf Championship.

He needed no powerful punch to tame Bellerive Thursday. He laced his approaches so straight at the pin that he had putts of only three, eight and two feet for birdies at the 13th, 14th and 16th.

He missed from three feet at the 15th an easy putt that would have given him four birds in a row.

He rolled in a 15-foot putt for a birdie at the ninth and canned a snake at the 10th. "It was 45 feet at least and that's conservative," he said. It was nearer 50.

Superiority with fairway woods was responsible largely for the excellent rounds posted by Beman and Rudolph.

Beman hit 10 wood shots from the fairway in a steady round that produced only two bogeys. He caught a bunker at the fifth and three-putted the 13th. But he birdied the third from 12 feet, the 15th from 15 feet and the 606-yard 17th from two feet after a magnificent wedge shot.

Rudolph finished birdie-birdie. He almost canned a chip for an eagle on the 17th, missing by six inches, and on the 18th sent his approach to within six feet and sank.

Geiberger came to the 17th, needing only par on the final two holes to tie for the lead, then took a double bogey 7 at the 17th, where he drove into a clump of trees.

"A spectator came up to me and said, 'You're tied with Nagle for the lead.'" Geiberger said later. "I told him, 'Yeah, but Nagle has finished.' He said, 'You still got to play 17.' I didn't know what he meant until I got there."

Nicklaus said after his poor round that he developed a hitch in his swing.

"I found myself laying the club head off and closing the face in meeting the ball," he said. "I noticed it after the Masters and have been trying to correct it.

He said he missed his drives on the fourth, 12th, 15th, 17th and 18th holes. A bad drive into the trees gave him a double bogey at the 15th. He also double bogied the first, hitting his second over the green, chipping too strong and three-putting.

"I'm not discouraged," Jack said. "I think I can shoot this course in 65 and 66. It would put me back in the game."

Three Former Champs Compete In LCC Event

. . . TODAY, SATURDAY

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Three former champions are among the 75 teams who will vie for the 12th annual Lincoln Country Club Swingfest crown today and Saturday.

The most recent returning winners are Lincoln Country Club member Bill Murrell and guest Dick Herman of Omaha, who teamed to win in 1963 with a best-ball handicap score of 128 over the 36-hole route.

Other returning champions are Glenn Yaussi of the Lincoln Country Club and guest H. E. Swedeburg of Woodbine, Iowa, and LCC's Bob Mowbray with guest Max Griffith of Kansas City, Mo.

Yaussi and Swedeburg won in 1962 with a 124 while Mowbray and Griffith tied for the 1959 title with Lyle Holland and Frank Bender at 124. Holland is playing this year with Denver's Don Carney as his guest.

John Hoppe of the Lincoln Country Club, who teamed with Jack Fate a year ago to win with a 125, is playing this year with Warner Rhoads of Cleveland as his partner.

The 75 teams in this year's field will be shooting for the best-ball handicap record of 115 established in the 1954 inaugural by Lee Chapin of the Lincoln Country Club and partner Rod Smith of South Sioux City.

Their 115 Is the only time the Swingfest has been won by a score under 120. The next best winning score is a 121 turned in by LCC's Wally DeBrown teaming with guest Jack Scott in 1956.

Saturday's Pairings, Page 19

---PROPOSED ENTRY---

Sam Baugh Signs As Tulsa Mentor

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—Sponsors of a proposed Tulsa entry in the professional Continental Football League said, today that Sammy Baugh, former Washington Redskins quarterback has signed a five-year contract to coach the team.

Bill Shortte, a Tulsa insurance man acting as spokesman for the Tulsa Sports Association, said Baugh will receive $50,000 a year as the Tulsa head coach. Baugh will have direct supervision of all coaching responsibilities and personnel functions.

Baugh said he would not be connected officially with the Tulsa team, to be known as the Oklahoma Wildcatters, until his contract as an assistant coach with the Houston Oilers expires Jan. 1, 1966.

"I will not leave the Houston team until after this coming football season is over," Baugh said.

He was in Tulsa for the news conference announcing his selection as the Tulsa coach.

The Tulsa team expects approval of a franchise application in the 10-team Continental League within the next 30 days, Shortte said. This would allow Tulsa's admission at the start of the 1966 season.

Shortte said an agreement has been reached with Tulsa University to permit the professional team to play in the university's Skelly Stadium, which is being expanded to seat 40,000 persons.

It was announced Thursday that the defense will be permitted to use any type of defense if the offensive team splits two players. Previously, the defense was limited to a five or six-man front regardless of the type of offense used.

Logue No-Hits Roberts, 13-0

Grand Island — Grand Island's Mick Logue fired a no-hitter at Lincoln Roberts here Thursday night as the Islanders drubbed the Capital City crew, 13-0, in a Cornhusker Legion League game called after seven innings because of the ten-run rule.

Not only was the Roberts club unable to hit Logue's pitches, it also found itself vulnerable in the field. Roberts committed 16 errors as only four of the 13 Grand Island runs were earned.

Centerfielder Marty Brown led the Grand Island attack with three hits and four rbi's.

The loss drops Roberts' season mark to 0-5 and its Cornhusker League mark to 0-3. The Islanders are now 4-3 on the season and 3-1 in the league.

Triple Play Tops Judd's 6-1 Victory

The first triple play in Lincoln's Legion Midget history highlighted Judd's 6-1 victory over AAA Rents at Sherman Field Thursday night.

The rare play came in the sixth inning with AAA runners at first and second base. Dan which was taken by third-Jablonski bunted a pop-fly which was taken by third-baseman Jerry Colvert who threw to first baseman Bill Fagler forcing Bob Sullivan. Fagler hurled to Rex Mercer at second, forcing Mike Butler and completing the play.

Joe Starita took the win for Judd's.

Flooding Causes Extensive Ruin At Denver Links

Denver (AP) — The Columbine Country Club golf course, chosen as the site of the 1966 PGA tournament, was badly damaged by flood waters of the South Platte River Wednesday night and Thursday.

Willard Johnson, club president, said at least 10 holes were damaged, most of them severely. Thick mud and tangled debris covered much of the course.

"I don't have the slightest idea at this time about the PGA tournament here," Johnson said. "I am hopeful the damage won't be as bad as it looked."

Logue No-Hits Roberts, 13-0

Grand Island — Grand Island's Mick Logue fired a no-hitter at Lincoln Roberts here Thursday night as the Islanders drubbed the Capital City crew, 13-0, in a Cornhusker Legion League game called after seven innings because of the ten-run rule.

Not only was the Roberts club unable to hit Logue's pitches, it also found itself vulnerable in the field. Roberts committed 16 errors as only four of the 13 Grand Island runs were earned.

Roberts managed to hit only five balls out of the infield.

Centerfielder Marty Brown led the Grand Island attack with three hits and four rbi's.

The loss drops Roberts' season mark to 0-5 and its Cornhusker League mark to 0-3. The Islanders are now 4-3 on the season and 3-1 in the league.

Triple Play Tops Judd's 6-1 Victory

The first triple play in Lincoln's Legion Midget history highlighted Judd's 6-1 victory over AAA Rents at Sherman Field Thursday night.

The rare play came in the sixth inning with AAA runners at first and second base. Dan which was taken by third-Jablonski bunted a pop-fly which was taken by third-baseman Jerry Colvert who threw to first baseman Bill Fagler forcing Bob Sullivan. Fagler hurled to Rex Mercer at second, forcing Mike Butler and completing the play.

Flooding Causes Extensive Ruin At Denver Links

Denver (AP) — The Columbine Country Club golf course, chosen as the site of the 1966 PGA tournament, was badly damaged by flood waters of the South Platte River Wednesday night and Thursday.

Willard Johnson, club president, said at least 10 holes were damaged, most of them severely. Thick mud and tangled debris covered much of the course.

"I don't have the slightest idea at this time about the PGA tournament here," Johnson said. "I am hopeful the damage won't be as bad as it looked."

Witt's Avenge Only Loss By Bombing Crete, 12-0

. . . IN JUNIOR LEGION ACTION

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Witt's Juniors avenged their only loss of the season to Crete by bombing the same team, 12-0, at Sherman Field Thursday night in a game called after 6½ innings by a pre-arranged 10-run rule.

John McEniry took the shutout win for Witt's, striking out 12, walking only one batter and helping his own cause by going two for three at the plate and driving in four runs. He did however hurl three wild pitches.

Witt's tallied their final three runs in the sixth. Two of them came on Bohaty's double to right which scored Rick Schivida who had been hit by Marr and Stephenson who had reached first via an error on his fly ball by rightfielder Burdy Burkhart.

Bohaty scored himself on a single by Fred Nevels.

Jack Bewely singled, rounded second on a single by Marvin Kemper and decided to hold. However a quick look over his shoulder revealed that Kemper was also at second base and shortstop Dick Burke was in possession of the ball.

Denver Race Track Ruined By Flooding

Denver (AP)—Centennial Race Track south of Denver was badly battered by flood waters from the South Platte River Wednesday night and Thursday.

Seven to 10 of the 152 thoroughbreds stabled in advance of the summer meeting were reported missing. At least two other horses were injured.

Dick Riley, track publicity director, said it seemed definite the 54-day meeting, slated to open July 2, would have to be cancelled.

"There's four feet of mud piled on the track and at least that much in the offices," Riley said. "Practically all of our equipment is ruined."

Riley said 25 barns in the backstretch area closest to the river were smashed or swept away. At one time Wednesday night there was seven to 10 feet of water in the infield.

A cafeteria in the stable area was wrecked.

Five Deer Units Filled According To Commission

The State Game Commission reported Thursday that five deer hunting permit units have been filled, including Blue, Elkhorn, Nemaha, Wahoo, and De Soto.

All permits are taken in five antelope areas: Box Butte, Cherry Garden, North Sioux, and Brown.

Only one wild turkey unit, Silver Creek, is filled.

There are plenty of permits remaining in other units, the Commission said.

On July 1, nonresidents will be eligible to apply.

Witt's Avenge Only Loss By Bombing Crete, 12-0

. . . IN JUNIOR LEGION ACTION

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

Witt's Juniors avenged their only loss of the season to Crete by bombing the same team, 12-0, at Sherman Field Thursday night in a game called after 6½ innings by a pre-arranged 10-run rule.

John McEniry took the shutout win for Witt's, striking out 12, walking only one batter and helping his own cause by going two for three at the plate and driving in four runs. He did however hurl three wild pitches.

Witt's Mike Bohaty continued to swing a hot bat in going for four at the plate, driving across three runs and scoring three himself. His hits included three singles and a double.

The assault began in the first inning when Dana Stephenson and Bohaty singled and crossed the plate on a double by McEniry.

In the second, Witt's took advantage of errors by Crete shortstop Ray Cooney and catcher Leon Muff and another wild pitch to score three runs on one hit.

Bohaty and Stephenson who had walked crossed the plate on a single by McEniry.

Witt's tallied their final three runs in the sixth. Two of them came on Bohaty's double to right which scored Rick Schivida who had been hit by Marr and Stephenson who had reached first via an error on his fly ball by rightfielder Burdy Burkhart.

Bohaty scored himself on a single by Fred Nevels.

Crete posed its only real threat with one out in the second inning, but a bizarre play helped quell the threat.

Jack Bewely singled, rounded second on a single by Marvin Kemper and decided to hold. However a quick look over his shoulder revealed that Kemper was also at second base and shortstop Dick Burke was in possession of the ball.

Bewely was caught in a rundown and tagged out by third-baseman Bill Schommer.

Buying Drive Continues In Stock Market

New York (AP)—The stock market recovery drive Thursday ran through its third straight session, but with considerable reduction in volume and increasing signs of profit taking.

Volume was 5.22 million million Wednesday and 8.5 shares compared with 6.32 million Tuesday.

The buying drive showed all signs of running down but it was a pleasant surprise to some analysts that it continued at all. The market appeared very hesitant in the morning and seemed ready to go either way. Plus signs spread gradually, however, and before long the conviction spread that it was an "up market" and it obtained a greater following.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.99 to 883.06.

Of 1,347 issues traded, 745 rose and 332 fell. New highs for the year totaled 10 and new lows 37.

It was a day of big blocks. Most of them sold at lower prices.

The fact that most of these big transactions changed hands at lower prices was seen by some analysts as a sign that at least some large investors were using a rising market as a means to unload certain holdings.

Eight of the most active issues advanced, however, and five declined while two were unchanged.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.49 million shares compared with 1.47 million Wednesday.

A public hearing on the proposed relocation was held in Western May 21, and the State Highway Advisory Commission is expected to act on the proposal at its meeting June 28.

Prices Are Mixed In Grain Market

Chicago (AP)—Gains and losses were about equal in the grain futures market Thursday but they were mostly small as the result of a generally slow and dull trade.

Soybeans traded in about a 4-cent range but the market was rather unsettled with speculators on both sides. Prices started with advances running to more than 2 cents but there were declines of that much at the finish.

Soybeans closed 1 to 2¼ cents a bushel lower, July $2.87⅜-⅞; wheat unchanged to ¼ lower, July new grade $1.39½; corn ⅛-⅝ higher, July $1.31⅞-32; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, July 67⅜ cents; rye ¼-⅜ higher, July $1.14⅜.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Stock Market Comments Full Of Rationalizations

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

Prior to the corrective reaction in stock prices, this column on May 17th last called for an objective reappraisal of the continuing boom in stocks and in business.

"This writer," the earlier column stated, "dissents from the current mood in business against 'rocking the boat.'

In this spirit, William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, made his famous speech on May 31st urging cautious economic driving. His mention of 1929, even though he specified important points of difference, accelerated selling at the market place.

By June 10th, in the spirit of managing the economy, President Johnson thought it necessary to make reassuring statements about the near-term prospects in the White House press headquarters.

Johnson said "the economy is good" and there is no reason "for gloom or doom talk." He said: "We do not conclude that (stock) prices are on the high side in relation to profits." The President further observed: "There is not anything on the horizon that we see at this time that gives any reason to expect anything except good hopes for the rest of this year." He further said: "There is no reason to shout from the housetops" that activity is going to climb sharply during the second half of the year, but the outlook is for "good, steady progress."

Deeper Issue

It is not easy to quarrel with the speculative appraisal which Johnson made, but there is a much deeper issue. This inheres whether it is incumbent on the constitutional head of state to add to his duties the role of tipster general. This remark is made in no partisan or frivolous spirit.

Long time readers may recall that this writer raised a similar point in the 1928-29 era when the usually meticulous Republican president, Calvin Coolidge, was asked during those roaring bull market days whether he thought brokers' loans were too high. He replied casually in the negative. That at the time was a delicate subject, and was pivotal in the determination of whether stock prices were soundly based.

At the time, this column criticized Coolidge for intruding into a speculative question about which individual citizens were trying to make independent judgment.

In the same period, E. H. H. Simmons, then president of the New York Stock Exchange, was on an extended speaking tour and his theme was that brokers' loans were not excessive in volume. This column then took the position that the New York Stock Exchange, historically a neutral market place where buyers and sellers meet, should not identify itself with the speculative position of either the bulls or the bears.

Same Mistake

The late President Herbert C. Hoover repeated the mistake of intervening during the critical days of the panic and the subsequent depression. He repeatedly issued speculative opinions and his erroneous theme song was that "prosperity is just around the corner."

This weakened Hoover politically and the payoff came in the 1932 elections when he was opposed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt. FDR, who had been governor of New York, had not used up his prestige by making premature economic forecasts. Thus he had a decided psychological advantage.

If for the sake of argument it is conceded that what President Johnson recently said was restrained, moderate and factual, his appearance, nevertheless, sets a bad precedent. He has accustomed the public to expect guidance from him at future turning points. If at some future time the President in good conscience cannot be optimistic, then the commission of a reassuring statement would receive a pessimistic interpretation.

There was in the President's remarks a key statement to the effect that "there is no reason to shout from the house-tops" that activity is to climb sharply during the second half of the year, but the outlook is for "good, steady progress."

This goes to the heart of the matter, The market weakness was rendered possible by the lack of bids for stocks from institutional buyers. While cash was to some extent taken by offerings of new issues, there was also a pause to reappraise the ratio between near-term expectations and the market valuations on blue chip stocks in the Dow Jones Averages.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Buying Drive Continues In Stock Market

New York (AP)—The stock market recovery drive Thursday ran through its third straight session, but with considerable reduction in volume and increasing signs of profit taking.

Volume was 5.22 million million Wednesday and 8.5 shares compared with 6.32 million Tuesday.

The buying drive showed all signs of running down but it was a pleasant surprise to some analysts that it continued at all. The market appeared very hesitant in the morning and seemed ready to go either way. Plus signs spread gradually, however, and before long the conviction spread that it was an "up market" and it obtained a greater following.

The davance continued until the final hour when there was some late profit taking which skimmed the cream.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.99 to 883.06.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.4 to 323.1 with industrials up 2.2, rails up .4 and utilities up .9.

Of 1,347 issues traded, 745 rose and 332 fell. New highs for the year totaled 10 and new lows 37.

It was a day of big blocks. Most of them sold at lower prices.

The fact that most of these big transactions changed hands at lower prices was seen by some analysts as a sign that at least some large investors were using a rising market as a means to unload certain holdings.

Eight of the most active issues advanced, however, and five declined while two were unchanged.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.49 million shares compared with 1.47 million Wednesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed in slower trading. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Governor Asked To Urge Roads Not Be Relocated

A dozen residents from the communities of Dorchester and Milligan Thursday asked Gov. Frank Morrison to urge that the State Roads Department abandon its plans to relocate Neb. 15 and 41 which run between the two towns.

A public hearing on the proposed relocation was held in Western May 21, and the State Highway Advisory Commission is expected to act on the proposal at its meeting June 28.

Prices Are Mixed In Grain Market

Chicago (AP)—Gains and losses were about equal in the grain futures market Thursday but they were mostly small as the result of a generally slow and dull trade.

Soybeans traded in about a 4-cent range but the market was rather unsettled with speculators on both sides. Prices started with advances running to more than 2 cents but there were declines of that much at the finish.

Soybeans closed 1 to 2¼ cents a bushel lower, July $2.87⅝-⅞; wheat unchanged to ¼ lower, July new grade $1.39½; corn ⅛-⅝ higher, July $1.31⅞-32; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, July 67⅜ cents; rye ¼-⅜ higher, July $1.14⅜.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Stock Market Comments Full Of Rationalizations

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Rukeyser

Prior to the corrective reaction in stock prices, this column on May 17th last called for an objective reappraisal of the continuing boom in stocks and in business.

"This writer," the earlier column stated, "dissents from the current mood in business against 'rocking the boat.'

In this spirit, William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, made his famous speech on May 31st urging cautious economic driving. His mention of 1929, even though he specified important points of difference, accelerated selling at the market place.

By June 10th, in the spirit of managing the economy, President Johnson thought it necessary to make reassuring statements about the near-term prospects in the White House press headquarters.

Johnson said "the economy is good" and there is no reason "for gloom or doom talk." He said: "We do not conclude that (stock) prices are on the high side in relation to profits." The President further observed: "There is not anything on the horizon that we see at this time that gives any reason to expect anything except good hopes for the rest of this year." He further said: "There is no reason to shout from the housetops" that activity is going to climb sharply during the second half of the year, but the outlook is for "good, steady progress."

Deeper Issue

It is not easy to quarrel with the speculative appraisal which Johnson made, but there is a much deeper issue. This inheres whether it is incumbent on the constitutional head of state to add to his duties the role of tipster general. This remark is made in no partisan or frivolous spirit.

Long time readers may recall that this writer raised a similar point in the 1928-29 era when the usually meticulous Republican president, Calvin Coolidge, was asked during those roaring bull market days whether he thought brokers' loans were too high. He replied casually in the negative. That at the time was a delicate subject, and was pivotal in the determination of whether stock prices were soundly based.

At the time, this column criticized Coolidge for intruding into a speculative question about which individual citizens were trying to make independent judgment.

In the same period, E. H. H. Simmons, then president of the New York Stock Exchange, was on an extended speaking tour and his theme was that brokers' loans were not excessive in volume. This column then took the position that the New York Stock Exchange, historically a neutral market place where buyers and sellers meet, should not identify itself with the speculative position of either the bulls or the bears.

Same Mistake

The late President Herbert C. Hoover repeated the mistake of intervening during the critical days of the panic and the subsequent depression. He repeatedly issued speculative opinions and his erroneous theme song was that "prosperity is just around the corner."

This weakened Hoover politically and the payoff came in the 1932 elections when he was opposed by Franklin Delano Roosevelt. FDR, who had been governor of New York, had not used up his prestige by making premature economic forecasts. Thus he had a decided psychological advantage.

If for the sake of argument it is conceded that what President Johnson recently said was restrained, moderate and factual, his appearance, nevertheless, sets a bad precedent. He has accustomed the public to expect guidance from him at future turning points. If at some future time the President in good conscience cannot be optimistic, then the commission of a reassuring statement would receive a pessimistic interpretation.

There was in the President's remarks a key statement to the effect that "there is no reason to shout from the house-tops" that activity is to climb sharply during the second half of the year, but the outlook is for "good, steady progress."

This goes to the heart of the matter, The market weakness was rendered possible by the lack of bids for stocks from institutional buyers. While cash was to some extent taken by offerings of new issues, there was also a pause to reappraise the ratio between near-term expectations and the market valuations on blue chip stocks in the Dow Jones Averages.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

President Sends Astronauts To French World Airshow

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson Thursday night dispatched astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White to the international air show in Paris to share their achievement with the rest of the world.

In a surprise announcement, the President said Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would accompany the Gemini-4 stars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said later that also in the party would be the astronauts' wives and Mrs. Humphrey; Space Administrator James E. Webb and his wife, and Charles W. Mathews, manager of the Gemini program and Mrs. Mathews.

Plush Jetliner

Using the President's plush 707 jetliner, Air Force 1, the VIP group was scheduled to leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at about 2 a.m. CST (today), arriving in Paris at 10:30 a.m.

Johnson said the astronauts would "share with other free peoples of the world their excitement and thrills" by joining the U.S. delegation at the Paris air-show.

The President made the announcement during a State Department showing of films taken by the astronauts during their historic four-day orbit of the earth. Johnson said at that time they would leave in the next few hours."

Mrs. Humphrey Joins

The plane had been scheduled to leave at 8:30 p.m. CST Thursday night it was learned. But the flight was held up to permit Mrs. Humphrey to fly from Waverly, Minn., to join her husband.

Johnson admitted that his decision to send the astronauts to Paris would "not be too popular with their families. But he said he wanted them to undertake the mission in hopes of furthering the concept of peaceful conquest of space.

In his speech to the diplomatic corps which viewed the space film, Johnson said that, like the astronauts, it was time for the nations of the world to "take a walk together toward peace on this earth."

We Are Proud

He said that "we are proud" of what the astronauts did, but "pride is not what motivates us." Rather, he said, it is a desire to expand the human frontier.

Johnson expressed awe at what the Technicolor film showed as the astronauts whirled through space. He said he was "seldom accused of being at a loss for words," but that no words could adequately describe what he had seen.

"If I had seen this film before I saw you in Houston," the President told the astronauts, "I might have made you full colonels."

Camel Creates Craft Crisis Circling Cairo

Cairo (AP)—A wandering camel brought Cairo Airport operations to a confused halt for 75 minutes Thursday.

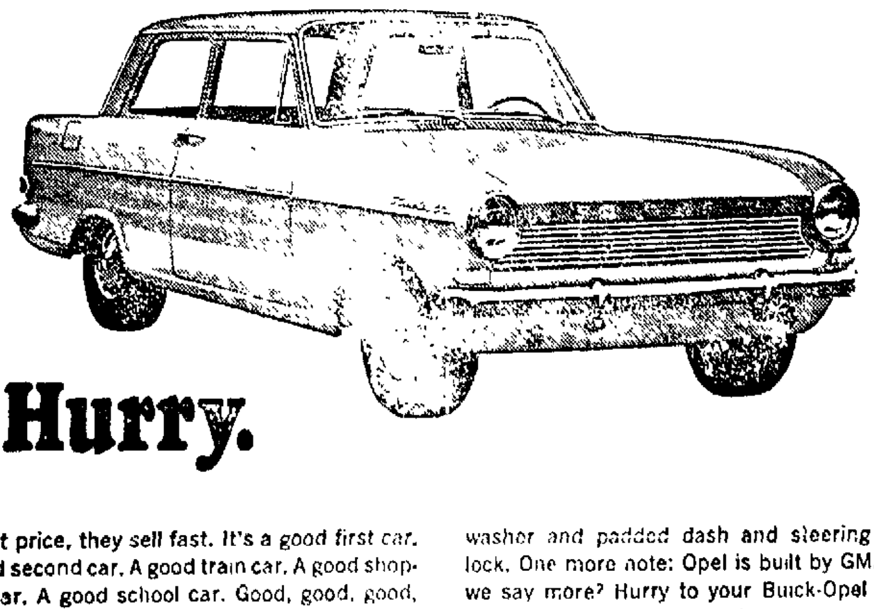
*Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price P.O.E. East Coast for Opel Kadett 2-door Sedan. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge (transportation charges, accessories, optional equipment, state and local taxes additional).

After telling you Opel Kadett costs $1655,* we have only one more thing to say.



Hurry.

At that price, they sell fast. It's a good first car. A good second car. A good train car. A good shopping car. A good school car. Good, good, good, because you get more than just a low price. (If you've ever wanted to hear money talk, now is the time. Listen.) Bucket seats are standard equipment. So is the 4-speed floor shift. And the 46-hp engine and all-vinyl trim and windshield washer and padded dash and steering wheel lock. One more note: Opel is built by GM. Need we say more? Hurry to your Buick-Opel dealer right now. Finish this paper later on.

OPEL KADETT BY BUICK

Action Settled Against Arlington Livestock Dealer

The U.S. Agriculture Department reported it has settled a civil court action against Arlington, Neb., livestock dealer Ralph Zimmerman.

The USDA said Zimmerman agreed before U.S. District Court Judge Robert Van Pelt to pay a $500 civil penalty.

Mayor Urged Ax For Income Tax, Senators Report

A number of state senators reported Thursday they have received telephone calls from Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen urging that the pending income tax bill be killed.

Hooper Sen. Ross Rasmussen acknowledged he talked with the Omaha mayor, and several other eastern Nebraska lawmakers also told of the telephone conversations but asked not to be identified.

Under the income tax bill, LB797, which will come up for final reading Tuesday, a tax on personal and corporate income would replace the state property tax.

Alfalfa Weevil Population Heavy

Washington (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported the alfalfa weevil is increasing in Colorado, Wyoming and New York.

Populations are heavy in Nevada, Nebraska, South Dakota and Rhode Island, and is heavier than for several years in Utah, the report said.

President Sends Astronauts To French World Airshow

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson Thursday night dispatched astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White to the international airshow in Paris to share their achievement with the rest of the world.

In a surprise announcement, the President said Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would accompany the Gemini-4 stars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said later that also in the party would be the astronauts' wives and Mrs. Humphrey; Space Administrator James E. Webb and his wife, and Charles W. Mathews, manager of the Gemini program, and Mrs. Mathews.

Plush Jetliner

Using the President's plush 707 jetliner, Air Force 1, the VIP group was scheduled to leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md. at about 2 a.m. CST Friday, arriving in Paris at 10:30 a.m.

Johnson said the astronauts would "share with other free peoples of the world their excitement and thrills" by joining the U.S. delegation at the Paris airshow.

The President made the announcement during a State Department showing of films taken by the astronauts during their historic four-day orbit of the earth. Johnson said at that time they would leave in the "next few hours."

Mrs. Humphrey Joins

The plane had been scheduled to leave at 8:30 p.m. CST Thursday night it was learned. But the flight was held up to permit Mrs. Humphrey to fly from Waverly, Minn., to join her husband.

Johnson admitted that his decision to send the astronauts to Paris would "not be too popular with their families. But he said he wanted them to undertake the mission in hopes of furthering the concept of peaceful conquest of space.

In his speech to the diplomatic corps which viewed the space film, Johnson said that, like the astronauts, it was time for the nations of the world to "take a walk together toward peace on this earth."

We Are Proud

He said that "we are proud" of what the astronauts did, but "pride is not what motivates us." Rather, he said, it is a desire to expand the human frontier.

Johnson expressed awe at what the Technicolor film showed as the astronauts whirled through space. He said he was "seldom accused of being at a loss for words," but that no words could adequately describe what he had seen.

"If I had seen this film before I saw you in Houston," the President told the astronauts, "I might have made you full colonels."

Camel Creates Craft Crisis Circling Cairo

Cairo (AP)—A wandering camel brought Cairo Airport operations to a confused halt for 75 minutes Thursday.

The camel got away from its Bedouin shepherd in the nearby desert and sneaked into the busy airport, stumbling into trucks, buses and aircraft.

A plane about to land was ordered to fly around. Those about to take off had to wait.

Two airport fire brigades and three trucks went chasing the camel.

Mayor Urged Ax For Income Tax, Senators Report

A number of state senators reported Thursday they have received telephone calls from Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen urging that the pending income tax bill be killed.

Mosquito Control Said Successful Though Problems

Community mosquito control programs can be successful, but there are some problems and pitfalls, according to Robert Roselle, University of Nebraska Extension entomologist.

These programs usually consist of trying to control the adult mosquito with fog machines, mist blowers, and aircraft, he said. But communities should not overlook the sources of their trouble, he added.

For most effective control, he said, breeding areas must be treated or cleaned up, otherwise it will be an endless job.

Mist blowers will deliver more material and larger droplets than will fog machines, but there is a chance of injuring foliage within 75 feet or so of the blower, Roselle said.

Mosquito Control Said Successful Though Problems

Community mosquito control programs can be successful, but there are some problems and pitfalls, according to Robert Roselle, University of Nebraska Extension entomologist.

These programs usually consist of trying to control the adult mosquito with fog machines, mist blowers, and aircraft, he said. But communities should not overlook the sources of their trouble, he added.

For most effective control, he said, breeding areas must be treated or cleaned up, otherwise it will be an endless job.

While fog machines are effective against the adults, the breeding places will repopulate a town rapidly if not treated, Roselle explained.

Mist blowers will deliver more material and larger droplets than will fog machines, but there is a chance of injuring foliage within 75 feet or so of the blower, Roselle said.
